

The President in Viet Nam

Under a wartime cover of secrecy, President Johnson flew to South Viet Nam Wednesday to meet American fighting men at Cam Ranh Bay. The President, top photo, never once let the opportunity to shake hands go by, found himself surrounded as he joined the men to tell them of his pride in their efforts in the conflict. Lower photo, the President is joined by Gen. William Westmoreland, the American commander in Viet Nam, as the two men drove past troops lining the area.

Could Boost SS Tax by $68.40 Sum

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Congress enacts President Johnson's proposed broadening of Social Security benefits next year, specialists say the required revenue probably would be raised by increasing the rate of the payroll tax and by extending the wage base on which it is levied.

Officials say Social Security taxes could increase $68.40 a year for a worker earning as much as $7,800, and an equal amount for his employer. This figure is based on the present calculations of Social Security officials of the financing expected to be needed. Details of the proposal continue to be worked out, and all final decisions are up to Congress.

As the specialists now see it, the base extension, from the present $6,600 to $7,800, would be permanent. The rate increase of two-tenths of 1 per cent each on employee and employer would, in a sense, be temporary.

As the periodic increases already built into the law became effective, they would overtake the first boost and the ultimate rate would not be higher than the one now scheduled.

How long the extra tax rate would apply would depend on when the benefits were made effective. Administration officials first spoke of a Jan. 1, 1968, effective date, but strong congressional sentiment for an earlier date developed and the administration seemed not inclined to fight it. Presumably the extra tax would coincide with the beginning of the benefits.

$27.20 Maximum Now
The Social Security payroll tax rate this year is 4.2 per cent each on employee and employer, up to the first $6,600 an employee earns. This means the maximum $27.20.

Sears Will Build Big Warehouse at Industrial Park
Sears, Roebuck & Company will have a 30,000 square-foot warehouse at the Kingston Industrial Center on Flatbush Avenue.

Announcement of the construction of the Sears warehouse was made today by Kingston Industrial Center President V. J. Andretta, who said that the building is expected to be completed by the fall of 1967.

To Support New Store
The warehouse will be used by Sears to support its retail store now being completed in the Kingston Shopping Plaza. The new facility, in addition to storage, will house many Sears service functions.

The Kingston Industrial Center is located on Flatbush Avenue, just north of the city limits. The warehouse will be a major addition to the industrial area.

Manila Called Council of War

Hanoi Stops Short of Turning Down Bid; Is Part of Peace Plot: Peking

By ROBERT LIU

TOKYO (AP) — North Viet Nam today described the Manila summit conference as a war council and stopped just short of officially rejecting the latest allied peace bid to end the Viet Nam war.

More Cynical, Insolent
"The 'peaceful solution' proposed by the United States at the Manila conference," said Nhan Dan, organ of the North Vietnamese Communist party, "is still more cynical and insolent than the 'conditions' which the United States had earlier put to the Vietnamese people and which had been categorically rejected by the latter."

The official Hanoi newspaper did not refer specifically to the allied offer to withdraw all foreign troops six months after North Viet Nam withdraws its forces and aid from South Viet Nam.

But Peking's New China News Agency called it part of a U.S. "peace talks plot" and a representative of the Viet Cong in Cairo said the Viet Cong "will never accept peace unless it is on our own terms."

Marcos Opens Peace Bid
Despite the unyielding Communist position, Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos told newsmen in Manila he has begun "initiatives for peace" following the summit conference.

"I cannot reveal them to you," Marcos said. But he acknowledged that the seven allied nations that met this week in the Philippine capital discussed which countries might play the role of "honest broker" in attempting to bring about negotiations with the Communist government in Hanoi.

Manila sources said Indonesia, Japan and India fit the requirements of the allied leaders.

Four Quit Shaky Bonn Rule; Think Erhard to Topple
BONN, Germany (AP) — Four ministers quit Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's shaky West German Cabinet today, refusing to approve higher taxes sought to pay for American arms.

The opposition Socialists immediately predicted that Erhard himself would be forced out.

Says Change Overdue
The resignations were decided by the Bundestag members of the Free Democratic party. All four belong to this group.

Herbert Wone, deputy chairman of the Socialists, issued a statement saying a change in chancellors is long overdue. He added that his own party does not exist to fill up gaps — an indication that it will try to get a maximum price if asked to enter a coalition government for the first time since the early 1930s.

Favor 'Grand Coalition'
Many Christian Democrats favor such a "grand coalition" of the Socialists and Erhard's Christian Democrats, instead of the "little coalition" to which the resigned ministers belong.

The Free Democrats are the junior members of the governing coalition, which consists largely of members of Erhard's own Christian Democratic party.

May Name Other Than Sam As Marilyn's '54 Killer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Eleven jurors had been seated tentatively and four of those still were subject to challenge as the murder trial of Samuel H. Sheppard reached morning recess today.

The state and the defense each used a peremptory challenge in removing two women who held tentative seats when the fourth day of the trial opened. That left each side two more peremptory challenges, by which they could remove a temporary juror without giving any reason.

The state challenged Miss Lillian Denk, a telephone company supervisor who was seated Wednesday. She was replaced by Hyman Eisenberg, 35, a paint salesman and third-year law student.

The defense removed Mrs. Helen Uhrin, who was seated Monday morning as juror No. 2 over objections for cause from both state and defense. He replacement had not yet been made at the recess.

There were hints by the defense Wednesday that "a certain person" other than Sheppard may be specified as the killer of Sheppard's first wife, Marilyn, 12 years ago.

While questioning a juror, Sheppard's attorney, F. Lee Bailey of Boston, hinted that someone other than Sheppard may be specified by the defense as the slayer through the use of circumstantial evidence.

"Have you ever heard that anyone else has been accused?" Bailey asked a tall, slim housewife.

Objection Sustained
County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan's objection was sustained by Common Pleas Judge Francis J. Talty, and Bailey then asked: "If the defense offers its own circumstantial evidence pointing to another as the perpetrator of this crime, can you listen to that evidence with an open mind as you did to the circumstantial evidence of the state?"

She replied, "Yes," and was seated as the 12th prospective juror.

Sheppard, 42, a former Bay Village osteopath, has served nine years in prison.

Are Relaxing Now At Resort in Thai

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — "We want to end this war today — we want to end this hour," President Johnson declared today.

In a report to the United States on his visit to Viet Nam, the President said it is now up to the other side to respond to the peace offer made by the allies at the Manila conference on Viet Nam.

Must Convince Communist

"We must continue to resist the aggression that threatens South Viet Nam" until it ceases, Johnson said, adding that the United States is fighting because "the Communists will unroll the door to peace only when they are convinced their military campaign cannot succeed."

Johnson recorded his remarks in Manila just before he flew to Thailand on his Asian tour. They were designed as a report by the President and command-in-chief to be broadcast nationally in the United States.

Asks for Understanding

The President asked "for the understanding, the support and the prayers of our countrymen" for the GIs serving in Viet Nam.

"Those men have pledged their lives," he said. "As your representative, I pledged that we will not fail them."

The presidential statement was issued by the traveling White House press office at Bangkok while Johnson and his wife were spending the night at a seaside resort 68 miles south-east of the Thai capital.

Witness of Unity

Johnson combined his observations on his trip to the battle zone with an appraisal of the conference just ended in Manila of the chiefs of the seven nations with troops fighting the Communists in South Viet Nam.

Concerning the summit parley, the President praised it as "a witness of our unity" in wanting to curb aggression and build peaceful societies in Asia.

He said the commitment of the seven nations at Manila to peace and progress "is not mere rhetoric to be stored in the dust bins of diplomatic history."

Mayor Signs Bill For Pay Increases

Mayor Raymond W. Garraghan today signed into law a measure adopted this month raising the salaries of four appointed city officials, the alderman-at-large and aldermen.

His signature followed a public hearing in the Common Council chamber, City Hall, marked by lack of opposition from the 14 attending.

George Savatky, of 1 Becket Street, said he was in favor of the pay boosts, but felt that the hearing should have been held at night instead of 10 a. m. The mayor was in favor of adjourning the hearing, but he was not asked to do so.

Salaries Listed

The measure, as recently adopted, provides for an increase from $6,000 to $8,500 for the city clerk and treasurer, $5,000 to $7,500 for the assessor, $6,000 to $7,500 for the corporation counsel, $1,800 to $2,500 for the alderman-at-large, and $1,000 to $1,500 for the aldermen.

Mayor Garraghan, who conducted the hearing, did not ask for an increase for himself, but suggested that mayors of the future should have one.

He noted that the pay boosts, as approved by the council, would mean an addition of some 12 cents to the tax rate. He also indicated a possible tax rate cut of some $3, insofar as the city itself was concerned, and was hopeful that the county charges would reduce it by another $2.

He said the city's bonded indebtedness should go down by more than $100,000 and there should be other budget cuts.

Main opposition was in a letter from Ronald F. Woods, of 15 Len Court, a school teacher, which was read by City Clerk Thomas R. Lyle.

Woods was also opposed to holding the hearing in the morning because he felt it was a "most inconvenient" time for the public to attend.

Might Be Justified
He held that the raises "might be justified if we were in sound financial condition, but former Mayor Schwenk, Mayor Garraghan and other city officials have made it quite clear to us that we desperately need more revenue in order to provide even the basic services of city government."

Woods said statistics show that most cities the size of Kingston are governed by nine legislators while this city has four more. He also noted that cities with population from 25,000 to 50,000 pay aldermen $1,000. He noted that the library is poorly financed, the city has "poor record" (Continued on Page 28, Col. 3)

Interest Lacking At Hearing About Elderly Tax Law

There was little interest shown by county residents in the public hearing called by the Board of Supervisors Wednesday evening on the new tax exemption law which would exempt certain people over 65 from payment of real property taxes.

Nineteen supervisors were present along with County Attorney Abram F. Molyneux and Clerk of the Board Robert A. Snyder. A half a dozen residents appeared but only two inquired as to provisions of the legislation.

Asked Questions

Appearing before the board and asking questions were Mrs. Almira Hulsair of Town of Kingston and Kurt Eppler of Lomontville. They asked several questions relative to the operation of the law which would exempt persons 65 or older who have an income of $3,000 or less from payment of general tax.

"Inflation is spiraling. Our contention is that the grocery stores and food chains have a net profit of one to one and a half per cent on sales. If they cut prices very much, they'll be operating at a loss."

Name Local Doctor To Medicaid Panel

A newly appointed 11-member panel, including a Kingston physician, will advise the State Health Department on standards, procedures and fee schedules under the state's Medicaid program, according to the Associated Press.

Health Commissioner Hollis S. Ingraham appointed the members of the State Advisory Committee on Medical Care Wednesday and said the group includes physicians representing general practitioners, specialists and experts on health economics.

Enacted April 30

The Medicaid program was enacted April 30 and provides financial help for those deemed unable to pay medical bills.

Wilson on Salisbury Revolt:

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson said today Britain's honor demands that any settlement of the Rhodesian rebellion must provide "gradual but certain progress" toward African majority rule.

The British leader warned that no British government or Parliament will accept any attempt by Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith to retain the right to veto the advancement of Africans toward power.

Wilson's statement, to the Associated Press in an interview, came as the British government awaited the Smith regime's formal reply to what has been portrayed as this country's "final terms" for a settlement.

The Commonwealth prime ministers conference held in London last month set out the basis on which we intended to proceed," Wilson said, "and it also set out the dire consequences which would follow if agreement could not be reached."

These consequences include a British call to the U.N. Security Council for imposition of certain (Continued on Page 28, Col. 1)

Hope to Install 'Lani Bird' Over Pacific Full Time

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A shiny new communications satellite whirled about the earth today and the Comsat Corp. hopes late this week to install it permanently over the Pacific Ocean as the first commercial space communications link between North America and the Far East.

Nicknamed "Lani Bird" by some newsmen, the satellite zipped into orbit Wednesday night from Cape Kennedy, riding aboard a three-stage delta rocket.

Lani, the Hawaiian name for "bird of heaven," is an improved version of Comsat's first satellite, Early Bird, which hovers over the Atlantic, relaying communications between North America and Europe.

Eight Viets Killed In Ambush Mistake

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U. S. ambush patrol opened fire on a group of Vietnamese civilians they mistook for Viet Cong today and killed or wounded 15, including women and children.

A U. S. spokesman said eight civilians were killed and seven were wounded in the mistaken ambush before dawn eight miles north of Saigon.

Identified as Cong

The spokesman said a Vietnamese national policeman accompanying the patrol had told the U. S. infantrymen that the group of people were Viet Cong.

The incident occurred during an operation, named Allentown, by a unit of the U. S. 1st Infantry Division.

U. S. B52 bombers made two raids on Viet Cong troops and bases in South Viet Nam during the day. One wave of bombers hammered at an enemy troop concentration 50 miles northwest of Qui Nhon near the central coast. A second wave pounded suspected Viet Cong troop concentrations and a headquarters area in war zone C, 75 miles northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian frontier.

U. S. forces reported killing 42 Communist troops in a series of small-scale skirmishes Wednesday ranging from close to Saigon north to the demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam.

U.S. Casualties Drop

Vietnamese military headquarters reported that South Vietnamese troops suffered their highest casualties this year last week. A spokesman said 1,062 South Vietnamese soldiers were killed or wounded compared with 693 casualties the previous week.

American casualties dropped last week to 64 killed and 396 wounded, compared with 74 killed and 432 wounded the previous week. Enemy dead increased, from 1,068 to 1,229.

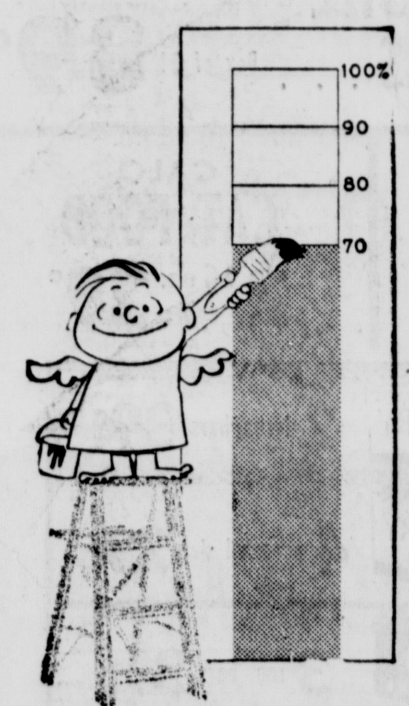

The weather over the Gulf of Tonkin cleared Wednesday, but it was bad again over North Viet Nam, and U. S. pilots flew only 75 bombing missions against the Communist North, about half the usual daily number.

Sails Under Own Power

The raids also were reduced by the fire which swept the carrier Oriskany and took the 42,000-ton flattop out of action. The Oriskany sailed under her own power today for repairs in the Philippines while the carrier Coral Sea steamed to take her place with the fleet pressing the air war against North Viet Nam.

The Navy said 43 men were killed and 16 injured aboard the Oriskany in fires that started with an explosion in a flare locker and swept through five (Continued on Page 18, Col. 1)

Chest Figures

Pledges totaling $212,837 were reported today for the Ulster County Community Chest.

The pledges represent 70.7 per cent of the $299,600 goal set up for the 1967 fund-raising campaign.

Saugerties has moved up to $1.7 per cent with $5,279 reported while New Paltz stands at $0.3 per cent with pledges of $5,132.

The extended county drive is scheduled to end Monday, Oct. 31.

Rocky Labels O'Connor Opponent of Medicaid

(By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

Gov. Rockefeller attacked Frank D. O'Connor before a State AFL-CIO gathering today as a foe of Medicaid while O'Connor mounted another onslaught against Rockefeller's campaign expenditures.

"Of all the legislation enacted in my eight years in Albany," Rockefeller said in remarks prepared for delivery at the Kiamesha Lake convention, "none is more important to the working man and his family than Medicaid."

Charging that O'Connor was "awfully quiet" on the subject of state aid to those unable to afford medical bills, the Republican governor added:

"The future of Medicaid as we know it in New York State will depend on whether it has a friend in the executive chamber in Albany next year."

D & H Society Names 2 Officers, Committee Heads

Election of a new officer and a trustee, and appointment of committee heads highlighted a special open meeting this week of the D&H Canal Historical Society Inc., at the High Falls Fire Hall.

Priscilla Bowden of High Falls is the organization's new secretary. She will be assisted by Nancy Ferraro of Stone Ridge.

Elected to the board of trustees is magazine writer Robert Gannon of High Falls.

Society President John N. Novi read a note received from Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall (he visited High Falls Sept. 30) which said in part you have a superb conservation-preservation project, and I hope you achieve it. If we can help later, let us know.

Appointed as head of the Research Committee was Dr. Virgil DeWitt of New Paltz. After his appointment, Dr. DeWitt requested that any material on the canal, no matter how insignificant it might seem, and whether it was published or is part of someone's memory, would be welcomed by him.

Mrs. Ruth Muth of High Falls is acting head of the Membership Committee. The Finance Committee is headed by Romeo Muller, and Mrs. Betty Ruffner is in charge of the Refreshments and Program Committee. Novi will be in charge of the Bulletin Committee, and Carlton Beach of High Falls will continue to head the Restoration Committee. June Gannon handles publicity for the organization.

At this meeting, which was open to anyone interested, several new members were added to the rolls. Society membership now totals 126.

After the meeting doughnuts and cider were served.

Notes Strike Threat If Rocky Is Defeated

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state Senate's Republican Majority Leader contended today that a "wave of strikes by public employees" would occur next year unless Gov. Rockefeller is reelected along with a Republican-controlled Legislature.

Sen. Earl W. Brydges of Niagara Falls said in a statement that Republicans had been blocked by Democrats during the 1966 legislative session in efforts to revise the Condon-Wadlin law.

The law bars strikes by public employees. Its penalties are so harsh that it seldom has been invoked. It was notably ignored during the 12-day transit strike that crippled New York City last January.

Democratic leaders in the Legislature have argued that the Republican compromise bill to revise the law would still have been too hard on public workers.

Brydges, who noted that Democratic gubernatorial candidate Frank D. O'Connor had endorsed the right of public employees to strike, said:

"Just imagine what would happen if we had a Democratic-controlled Legislature and at the same time a governor who favored giving civil service employees an unrestricted right to strike. That would be an open invitation to anarchy on every level of government in this state."

Say Bookie Ring Smashed Upstate Eight Arrested

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The arrests of seven men and a woman in police raids have broken up a bookmaking operation handling at least $8,000 a week, detectives say.

Police raided six places Wednesday and confiscated gambling paraphernalia such as racing forms and odds sheets.

Most of the eight persons were accused of keeping bookmaking records. Other gambling charges also were lodged, police said.

Detective Capt. James Cavoti described the seven men as "heavyweights" in the city's gambling picture.

All eight were freed on bail pending city court hearings. The bail ranged from $1,000 to $2,500.

Wawarsing Town Democrats Slate Travia, Speaker

A large crowd is anticipated at the Town of Wawarsing Democratic rally at the Echo Hotel, Ellenville, Sunday 7:30 p. m.

Anthony J. Travia, majority leader of the New York Assembly, will be guest speaker. Joseph Stoeckler, Town of Wawarsing Democratic chairman, said "we are very pleased and honored to have the majority leader attend our rally. Mr. Travia has done an outstanding job as a leader and legislator. He is also chairman of the powerful Rules Committee as well as a member of the Joint Legislative Committee."

The evening will also feature an "all you can eat" smorgasboard plus dancing to a well known dance band.

Tickets are available from all Town of Wawarsing Democratic committee men.

The arrangement committee consists of Mrs. Everett Coty (state Committeeman), Mrs. Eugene Glusker, Mrs. Joseph Stoeckler Jr., Mrs. Franklin Sabler, Mrs. Edward Schor, Anita Thull and Mrs. Irving Weiss.

O'Connor Elated At Poll Results

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank D. O'Connor said today he was "gratified" with poll results showing him leading in the four man gubernatorial race. He called it evidence of public resistance to his Republican opponent's "$20,000,000 sales campaign."

O'Connor was referring to the New York Daily News straw poll which gave him a slim lead. But Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was said to be significantly ahead of O'Connor in a poll taken by the National Broadcasting Company.

The Democratic candidate said "expensive Madison Avenue hucksters have bombarded the public with a series of radio and television commercials, newspaper advertisements, billboard signs, name bands, shirts and old-fashioned pitchmen," since the first of the year.

All this is "geared to convince the voter that 'Rockefeller's Corn,' with a new magic formula—eight year in the making, is now ready and will be available to an eager public on November 8th," he said.

His own campaign expenditures "will amount to approximately 2½ per cent of what Rockefeller is spending," O'Connor said in the statement from his campaign headquarters. "Despite this great disparity...the polls continue to show me in the lead," O'Connor said. "What better evidence that the people steadfastly refuse to be gulled, reamed, and brainwashed into buying another four years of the Rockefeller product."

He predicted "that the Rockefeller coffers will open wide to loose a fresh flow of cash in the days between now and election in a desperate and unsuccessful last gasp attempt to convince the voters that they should buy Rockefeller again."

Jail 4 Magistrates In School Tax Rift

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Four Pike County magistrates, jailed because they refused to pass a school budget, are spending a lot of time in the jailer's office receiving sympathizers and well-wishers.

"They marched through here for hours," Magistrate Taylor Justice said from the jail Wednesday night. "I couldn't keep count."

Justice said he and the three other magistrates hadn't changed their minds about the county school budget. They contend it would impose a 20 per cent tax hike which wouldn't be passed along to large public service corporations.

The four were jailed Tuesday on a contempt of court charge after refusing an order from special Judge W.D. Sparks to approve the budget. He said the budget's proposed tax increase is 10 per cent, which is legal.

In addition to their visitors, about 200 housewives stood for hours in front of the jail and chanted: "Don't let them raise our taxes."

The other jailed magistrates are Foster Bentley, Burbage Prater and Darwin Newsome. They comprise the Pike County Fiscal Court, which refused to approve the budget on four occasions. The school board appealed the decision.

To Receive Degree

OLEAN, N.Y. (AP)—The Rt. Rev. John R. H. Moorman, Anglican bishop of Ripon, England, will be awarded an honorary doctor of letters degree by a Roman Catholic seminary, it was announced today.

The award will be made Nov. 1 by Christ the King Seminary of St. Bonaventure University, a Franciscan school.

Bishop Moorman, recognized as an authority on Franciscan history, was the official spokesman for the Anglican Church at second Ecumenical Council. He has been lecturing at Roman Catholic seminaries in North America.

He was ordained an Anglican priest in 1929 and named bishop of Ripon in 1959.

Declares Resnick Helped Veterans

Miles D. Kennedy of Millbrook, former New York State Commander of the American Legion, today endorsed Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick for reelection because, "for the Veteran, Joe Resnick is one of the most valuable members of Congress."

Kennedy, who also served as director of the American Legion's National Legislative Commission, 1950-1962, stated, "Joe Resnick is a key member of the House Veterans Affairs Committee. Congressman Resnick has helped thousands of veterans, their widows and orphans, to secure the compensations, pensions, and other benefits to which they are entitled. As part of his program to return a fair share of the Federal Tax Dollar to the people of the 28th Congressional District, Congressman Resnick has worked to insure that no local veteran fails to receive the benefits he has earned."

Report Progress

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Progress has been reported in contract talks between the independent United Electrical Workers (UE) and Westinghouse Electric.

UE Secretary-Treasurer James Matles said after Wednesday's session: "We cleaned up issues on working conditions and made progress on pay for skilled day workers."

Meanwhile, federal mediators recessed Westinghouse talks with the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO.

Two other unions settled with Westinghouse last weekend.

If Congressman Resnick had not stopped the hospital from closing, local veterans would have been forced to travel to Albany or New York City to receive medical treatment."

TO AVERT TRAGEDY

It is beyond the power of words to assess the heartbreaking tragedy in the town of Aberfan in Wales, where a mountain of mine sludge buried a school and snuffed out scores of young lives. As the Rev. Derwin Morris Jones said at memorial services, "Today we mourn the loss of a generation of our children." All the world mourns.

Yet though little can be said to assuage the grief of those bereft people, one point must be made. The possibility of this dreadful event was foreseen. For years, it had been feared that the great black mass would some day break loose. It appears that, had suitable precautions been taken by government or mining company authorities, the tragedy might at least in some measure have been averted.

It is easy to say this now; hindsight is always easy. Still, it ought to be said, if only to emphasize that a lack of foresight and appropriate action has led to more than one tragedy of this kind.

The reference is not merely to mining disasters in Wales, nor even to such disasters alone. What we have in mind is that the works of man threaten health and welfare and even life itself in many places, in a variety of ways, and that often too little is done to prevent tragedy.

Wherever men grieve for those children who died, there ought to be renewed appraisal; there ought to be soul-searching as to whether all has been done that might be done to safeguard lives against whatever local threat there may be. Once the mountain begins to move, it is too late.

Between 700 and 1,000 newsmen accompany President Johnson on his trip. This assures one thing: a lot of different versions of what is going on.

UNDERWATER BARGAIN

People used to laugh a good deal about the great Florida land swindles of three or four decades ago. It came to be widely supposed that in a more sophisticated era nothing like that could happen.

The laughter became a bit hollow a couple of years ago, when sales of open desert land for homesites for the retired got wide publicity. And now comes word that the classic Florida swindle of yore has been repeated today: the federal government claims that some 500 acres of land sold as "ideal for retirement" is a swampy tract near the Everglades that is under water most of the year.

Charges of mail fraud have been filed against a man allegedly responsible for enticing people scattered about the country to spend $150,000 for this land. If the defendant is convicted, some of them may get their money back. The mystery will remain, though: After all that has been printed about phony deals, how come there are still people gullible enough to buy land they know nothing about?

Senator Dirksen has had the pins removed from his broken hip, but continues to give Democrats the needle.

THE SCHOOLS: HOW GOOD?

The educational ferment in this country during the past 10 or 15 years can be summed up in one all-encompassing question. It is a question of deep interest not only to parents of school children but also to all who recognize the basic importance of education to the national welfare: How good are our schools?

This question is one that can be endlessly debated. It has been the subject of spoken and written controversy, both in professional circles and among the general public, for some years. Obviously, there can be no conclusive answer; this is true, in particular, because there are such wide variations among school systems and among individual schools.

We may be somewhat closer to an answer in nationwide terms, however, after the results of a national assessment program now getting under way become known. This is a private undertaking under the auspices of the Center for Advanced Studies in the Behavioral Sciences at Palo Alto, Calif., financed by grants from the Carnegie Corporation and the Ford Foundation for the Advancement of Education.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
THE SNARE THAT IS BEING WOVEN AT THE UN

If Americans are gambling that their troubles will be over once they have solved their problems in Southeast Asia, they may have a second thing coming. For another—and possibly much greater—crisis seems to be shaping up at the southern end of the African continent.

Inexorably, at the UN, 54 delegations from the Afro-Asian states are engaged in weaving a snare for Great Britain that could end by trapping all the great industrial and trading nations of the world. The first strands in the snare consist of resolutions calling upon the UN to do something effective to invalidate the old League of Nations mandate granted to South Africa to govern its neighbor territory of South-West Africa. Last July the International Court of Justice refused to pass judgement in the case when Ethiopia and Liberia entered a complaint that South Africa had violated a promise by extending apartheid to a land it had originally received in trust. Whether the "law" of the League of Nations still holds today when the League itself is long since dead is a good question. But the Afro-Asian nations insist that the morals of the situation run against South Africa, and they want the UN Security Council to use any force necessary to end apartheid in the South-West Africa territory.

The British, with their highly sensitive moral sense, are taking the side of the Afro-Asians in the argument. But the British have a practical sense, too. So, when Britain's Lord Caradon made a common front the other day with Arthur Goldberg, the chief U.S. delegate to the UN, in condemning South Africa, he was careful to advocate punitive action that would be within Britain's "clear capacity."

What does "clear capacity" mean? Looking at the situation as a pounds and pence proposition, Britain cannot possibly afford to be party to UN economic sanctions against South Africa. The British port of Southampton gets fully one-half its business from the South African trade; if this were to collapse, putting fifty thousand Britons out of work, the Wilson government would certainly have a major crisis to surmount. In a recent report to the UN Security Council, the British said their exports to South Africa amounted to two hundred million pounds a year. Where in the tight world competitive market would they find alternative markets for the motor vehicles, woven cotton fabrics, tractors, railroad equipment, and electrical instruments that now go to Cape Town? And could the British force the insurance companies and the freight charges they now collect in foreign exchange that they derive from their South African investments?

Since South Africa is Britain's third best customer, coming after the United States and Canada, the answers to these questions should be obvious. UN economic sanctions against South Africa would drag down the already beleaguered British pound. This, in turn, would involve the U.S. dollar. And the world could very well have another 1929 collapse on its hands.

This would be a man-made catastrophe, but don't be too sure that it won't happen. Moral issues, once they have been coupled with agitation that involves the intangible quality of "face," have a way of taking off to unforeseen destinations where abstract morality brings a totally immoral result. Now that both Arthur Goldberg and Lord Caradon have said that South Africa has forfeited its right to keep the South-West Africa mandate, the Afro-Asian nations will hardly allow the West to forget it. The din has just started.

The other day, in New York, an influential publisher, speaking at a session in which he was seeking policy guidance, threw up his hands at the South-West Africa situation. "How," he asked, "can we get Arthur Goldberg off the hook? To which the publisher got a laconic answer in the form of another question: 'What makes you think Arthur Goldberg wants to get off the hook?'

Goldberg may avoid the final responsibility if, as one report has it, he is contemplating resigning his UN job. But he has placed the U.S. right on the hook to stay.

The DOCTOR SAYS

Some Precautions to Take in Wearing Contact Lenses

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I tried a pair of contact lenses but after wearing them one day I had such pain I couldn't stand it. The optometrist then made me a smaller pair. Could they hurt my eyes while I'm trying to get used to them? What are the advantages of tinted lenses?

A—It takes two or three days to get accustomed to wearing contact lenses. If you plan to wear them, you should keep them in for eight to 10 hours the first day and 13 hours the second and third days. Don't try to work up to this level gradually.

Some persons, especially those with chronic conjunctivitis, cannot wear contact lenses. Persons who are past 50 are likely to have a hard time adjusting to them. They should not, however, damage the eyes unless (1) they are improperly fitted, (2) unhygienic methods are used to insert or remove them (never moisten the lenses with saliva as many people do), (3) they are worn too long at a stretch; it is especially important not to wear them during sleep, or (4) they are worn when there is an infection in the eye or in a dusty environment.

One disadvantage is that wearing contact lenses lessens the sensitivity of the cornea, so that an early infection that would ordinarily be painful is not felt until it has progressed to a dangerous stage.

Slightly tinted contact lenses are available in green, brown, blue and gray. Only those that transmit at least 92 per cent of the light that strikes them should be worn. About the only advantage they have over crystal clear (100 per cent light-transmitting) lenses is that when they are dropped they may be easier to find.

Q—I have a cold. About 10 days out of every month my stomach is flat but the rest of the time I fill up with gas. Can anything be done for this?

A—Unless you avoid the well-known gas formers—starchy vegetables, cabbage and Brussels sprouts—and control your tendency to have loose stools, no drugs will help you. Antispasmodic drugs, mild sedatives and a diet with little or no roughage should benefit you. A new drug, methylpolysiloxane (Mylleon, Silain or Phazyme) is recommended as a defrothing agent, especially for persons who swallow excessive amounts of air.

Q—My doctor is giving me Phazyme and Festal for excessive belching. Have they any detrimental side effects?

A—Festal is a mixture of digestive enzymes. Neither this drug or Phazyme have any harmful side effects.

13, 17—and young adults, drawn from a variety of economic and community backgrounds in four geographic areas, will be questioned with the cooperation of local school administrators. The attempt will be to find out how well educated they are in many fields: science, mathematics, reading and writing, social studies, citizenship, and so on.

The picture drawn from the answers given should provide considerable insight into the virtues and faults of our present educational system. The findings will apply to individual schools in widely varying degrees. But on the whole they can be expected to give educators much help in charting a future course.

Washington News

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

tragedies of the American operation in Viet Nam is that with all the good will in the world, top official Americans and Vietnamese often don't understand each other.

The results of the Manila conference, no matter how worthwhile they may seem here, may not count for much unless American and South Vietnamese learn to avoid misunderstandings such as this reporter learned of in Saigon.

Even when our people speak in the same language, Vietnamese traditions are so different from ours that Vietnamese read into what we say different meanings than we intend.

This can result in tragedies.

A recent incident brings this problem into focus.

Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and one of his senior embassy officials met the other day with one of Viet Nam's top political figures, a man who has held high office in a series of cabinets since the end of World War II and certain to be a great influence in Vietnamese politics during the next two decades.

They met as friends. In the course of the conversation, Lodge and his adviser asked this leading man how well he thought he and his fellow Vietnamese could work with Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

This is a natural question in the American way of doing things. But in the present situation, it was explosive.

The close friends and associates of this leading Vietnamese took the question as a delicate American hint that the Vietnamese should be willing to support Nguyen Cao Ky's continuation in office, perhaps even as president of the country in the next election.

It no longer matters how the leading Vietnamese himself took the question. The story, with the ramifications listed above, has now spread through the membership of the constitutional assembly. The word is going around that the United States wants them to cooperate with Ky.

Many Vietnamese like Ky personally and think he is honest politically, but to them he epitomizes military rule. They are determined that military rule end.

This innocent conversation will make many Vietnamese believe the United States is behind military rule. It will thus make them wary of U.S. intentions.

When a people has been subjected to military rule almost constantly for more than two and one-half decades—under the Japanese, French, Diem and a succession of military juntas, these feelings are easy to understand.

Even more serious is that this innocent question becomes interpreted as an attempt by the United States to determine for the Vietnamese whom they shall have as their president.

Americans are blunt. If we want someone to back someone, we say it directly. But in Viet Nam, the simple asking of a question often indicates what you want done. This is the way the ambassador's question has been interpreted.

The suspicion of U.S. intent was all the more believable because it is widely known that the United States has blocked several coup attempts against Ky. There's widespread belief Ky would have been out months ago without U.S. aid.

Today in National Affairs Reviews Guam Right-to-Work Measures Vetoed by Johnson

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The strange story of a bill passed by the legislature of the Territory of Guam and then vetoed by President Johnson has escaped general notice. In fact, it looks as if the administration tried hard to keep the incident from getting any public attention.

In endeavoring to enact the bill, the 75,000 people of Guam had sought to exercise the right given to all states under the Taft-Hartley Act—to determine for themselves whether workers must accept compulsory unionization. The bill, which was twice passed by the Guam legislature, simply said that "no person shall be denied the opportunity to obtain or retain employment because of non-membership in a labor organization." The freedom to make this choice today is enjoyed by 19 states. Congress recently was urged by President Johnson to take away from all states the power to pass any right-to-work law. But the President's recommendation was swept aside.

Studied Guam Bill

Mr. Johnson, under an existing statute, had 90 days in which to make up his mind whether he would veto the bill passed by the Guam legislature or allow it to become law. The measure had been vetoed by the territorial governor. A presidential appointment. But by a more than two-thirds vote the legislature overrode that veto. This left it up to President Johnson to intervene or not as he pleased.

Why did the President wait 88 days before sending a letter stating that he chose to disregard the wishes of the legislature? Why was the President's letter to the governor of Guam not made public at the White House, but only a brief notice about his veto action posted on the bulletin board after Mr. Johnson had left on his Asian trip?

These and other questions are being asked by members of Congress. Representative Albert Watson, Republican of South Carolina, declared that, "by the single stroke of a pen," President Johnson "destroyed the concept of individual freedom for the Territory of Guam." Mr. Watson adds:

"The President has made a mockery of the democratic process as we know it. He has demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt that he and his administration are controlled by organized pressure groups. The big labor bosses are calling the shots and a subservient President, who supposedly represents all the people, is meekly adhering to their every whim and fancy."

Entirely apart from the pros and cons of the controversy over compulsory unionization, the broader question at issue is the right of a territorial legislature to write its own laws and to have them struck down only if they are in violation of the Constitution of the United States.

The Washington Post, which generally supports the administration, had this to say editorially:

"President Johnson has given a rebuff to self-government in vetoing the right-to-work law passed by the territorial legislature of Guam. . . . The question is whether he is wise to enforce in Guam a restriction he could not impose on the states. The veto of Guam's wishes will seem to many to be the antithesis of the self-government and home rule that ought to be our objectives in the territories."

President Johnson has been proclaiming the doctrine of self-determination as one of the main reasons why American troops are fighting in Viet Nam today. But the people of Guam, who waited from 1898 to 1950 before the shield of colonialism was lifted and a territorial government established, are being denied now the right to decide for themselves whether a private organization shall be given by law the privilege of restricting individual freedom.

The fundamental principle has been that the people of a territory shall be trained in self-government. But the lesson being taught them now is that they can be deprived at will on the right to enact the same laws as appear in the statute books of 19 states.

It would have helped the cause of self-determination of peoples throughout the world if the 14-6 vote of the Guam legislature had been permitted to stand. But presumably Mr. Johnson would have been in ill favor among labor-union leaders. This seems to be a case where a public interest superseded the public interest.

Quick Quiz

Q—When was the first Monday in September designated as Labor Day?

A—In 1894, by an act of Congress.

Q—What is the difference between an atheist and an agnostic?

A—An atheist, in a positive way, declares that there is no God. The agnostic, on the other hand, is a person who claims that no one can know if there is a God or a spiritual world. The agnostic does not say there is no God. He only says that he does not know.

Q—Has any cabinet officer succeeded to the United States presidency as a result of death?

A—No.

A—The Commonwealth of Australia.

Q—Do any mammals lay eggs?

A—Yes, two—the spiny anteater, or echidna, and the duck-billed platypus native to Australia, Tasmania and New Guinea.

Q—What was Andrew Johnson's last important act as president of the United States?

A—Proclamation on Christmas Day 1868, of complete pardon to all who had been concerned in the secession.

Q—Where did George Washington make his last military appearance?

A—At Cumberland, Md., in 1794, he reviewed troops who had been called out to suppress the Whisky Rebellion.

Aid to Africa

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. aid to Africa is to be channeled more through world and regional organizations rather than sent directly to individual countries, say government officials. The State Department acknowledged Wednesday after months of silence that President Johnson has approved a new aid policy for Africa which also aims at increasing the number of trained Africans and developing effective communication systems for the continent.

No increase is foreseen in the current $500-million annual rate of aid.

The policy is based on a report prepared last summer by the U.S. ambassador to Ethiopia, Edward M. Korry.

Suing CIA for $25,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hans V. Tofte, the Central Intelligence Agency man who lost his job for taking classified work home, is seeking $25,000 from CIA Director Richard Helms and three other persons.

Tofte, in a federal court suit filed Wednesday, said a letter worth that much was removed from his home by the CIA.

Tofte's attorney, Byron N. Scott, said the letter was written by Helms in the mid-1950's and asked Tofte to remain in the CIA for life. The supersecret agency says "no such letter ever existed."

2 Paint Throwers During LBJ Visit Await Sentencing

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — Two Melbourne brothers who spattered President Johnson's limousine with red and green paint — the Viet Cong's colors — last Friday pleaded guilty today to a charge of endangering a person and to five counts of willful property damage.

Their lawyer reported their ideas of the proper way to protest had changed, even if their opposition to the Viet Nam war hadn't, and said they had written Johnson asking his forgiveness.

John North Langley, 21, a salesman, and David Ellis A. Langley, 18, a student, pleaded guilty in a suburban court to themselves—as they made their rounds Wednesday night. Jailed were a sergeant and five patrolmen.

throwing two paint-filled plastic bags at Johnson's car as it was en route to a reception at Government House.

The limousine's bubble top protected the Johnsons but four of the Secret Service escort and several persons in the crowd were doused by the red and green paint.

Defense counsel Frank Galbally told the court the brothers since had gone to great pains to find out the names of the people they splattered and would pay them a total of $1,912 compensation from their savings.

Magistrate E. J. Danaher ordered the pair held for 14 days to await sentencing.

Soviets Ask Halt Of Demonstration Outside Embassy

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union protested to China today about demonstrations outside the Soviet Embassy in Peking and demanded that they be stopped.

A note given to the Chinese Embassy said the demonstrations were "another deliberate step by the Chinese side aimed at the further aggravation of Soviet-Chinese state relations."

The Soviets made a similar protest Aug. 27 against attacks and demonstrations by the young Red Guards outside the Peking embassy.

The official Soviet news agency Tass said the note pointed out that the entrance to the embassy in Peking has been blocked since last Sunday by demonstrations.

"Matters have reached a point at which some foreign diplomats could not proceed from the Soviet Embassy to their residences in cars with diplomatic numbers on Oct. 23 and had to go back to the embassy grounds from the blocked street," the note said.

Japanese correspondents in Peking reported to Tokyo today that Premier Chou En-lai has issued new directives to halt the massive influx of young Red Guards from the countryside into the capital, because they are creating congestion and overtaxing the city's facilities.

Boy Scout News

Under cloudy skies a group of 40 Cubs and leaders gathered in the parking lot of Redeemer Lutheran Church, sponsors of Pack 9, for a bus trip to Stewart Air Force Base.

The group was escorted on their tour by S/Sgt. Richard Harrington. Their tour included a visit to the communications and control center where planned flights, also weather and field conditions affecting flights, were explained to the Cubs. A Sabre jet on display was also viewed. The fire station was the highlight of their tour. The firemen ran the engine out on the field and displayed the use of all equipment and asbestos suits. The Cubs were taken onto the truck to see controls inside. While at the fire station a transport plane circled the field several times and as it landed the fire engines and ambulance raced to the field. A dead engine had caused it to land.

The Cubs and leaders enjoyed an excellent meal at the dining hall. Sgt. Harrington took the bus on a tour of the base. The bus saw the Sage building, several barracks, a helicopter base and on a high spot an extensive view of the whole base was enjoyed by all. On the way back it was noted the crippled transport plane which had landed earlier was taking trial runs. As the bus approached the field again, the transport landed on the runway along side the road the bus was on giving the Cubs a first hand view of a big transport plane.

Johnson's Visit Dramatizes Thailand Race Against Time

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—President Johnson's visit dramatizes Thailand's grim race against time.

Thailand and the United States together are trying to make maximum use of what time they still have to insulate this country of 30 million against a threat of Communist "people's war" while the process of nation-building goes forward. The threat of "people's war" seems real enough. It is the announced intention of Red China to support one in the style of Viet Nam. A Thai-language Communist broadcast last month called Viet Nam "a shining example for us."

Few in Bangkok doubt the threat in the impoverished northeast, noting a sharp rise this year in guerrilla activity. In 1966 there has been an average of 10 or more assassinations each month as the Communists try to get control of an area, however small, that could be the nucleus of a "liberated zone."

United Nations New York
331 East 38th Street
New York, N. Y. 10018

Editor, The Freeman
On Oct. 20 you published a letter over the (quite familiar) signature of Mr. John C. Brode, who, this year again, reveals a basic lack of information about the United Nations Children's Fund.

According to Mr. Brode, "the United States donates the preponderance of UNICEF funds." This statement is disproved by UNICEF's financial records, which are public documents.

In 1965 government contributions to the central account of UNICEF were $26.1 million. The U.S. Government, whose pledges are subject to the condition that the actual U.S. contribution shall not exceed fixed percentages of the total government contributions to UNICEF, in 1965 contributed $12.0 million, an amount equal to 46% of the total government contributions. Other governments contributed $14.1 million to the central account. In addition, other governments contributed $3.8 million toward the implementation of UNICEF-aided projects and for local administrative and related costs of UNICEF field offices.

In the United States, as in other countries around the world, private citizens make contributions to UNICEF.

Mr. Brode further contends that most of the money contributed to UNICEF "goes to the Communist countries."

In fact, from 1951 through May, 1966, UNICEF's allocations to help the children of Communist countries amounted to 2.36% of the worldwide allocations. Incidentally, UNICEF's aid is NOT given in the form of cash, except for the stipends of nurses, midwives and other local personnel while they are in training.

Those of Mr. Brode's other charges which are not too absurd to consider are refuted in the enclosed brochure, "UNICEF—Facts and Fallacies," which is at your readers' disposal free of charge.

Yours most sincerely,

VICTOR DE KEYSERLING

Ruling Cuts One Police Question From City Ballot

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Opponents of New York City's civilian-dominated police review board counted a victory today in the wake of a Court of Appeals decision over questions on the Nov. 8 ballot.

The state's highest court rejected Wednesday the city's bid to keep on the city's ballot two questions that ask whether the review board should be retained.

Leaves One

The effect of the decision—that one of the questions must remain on the ballot—permitted the Conservative party to withdraw its petition, leaving only a petition sponsored by the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association.

The court voted unanimously to reverse an Appellate Division ruling on the controversial panel. There was no written opinion.

The Conservative Party and the police group, both opponents of the seven-man board set up this year, had expressed fear that voters, faced with two referendum questions on the matter, might become confused.

The opponents noted that to vote against the review board, a vote would have to cast a "yes" vote.

Wanted Both

City authorities had sought to keep both questions on the ballot, and opponents charged that the city deliberately was trying to confuse voters.

The Court of Appeals ruling upheld a Sept. 30 decision by a State Supreme Court judge, who was reversed a week later.

The board investigates complaints of police brutality and discourtesy.

Samuels Looks Like Winner Even If O'Connor Loses

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Supporters of Howard J. Samuels say the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor can't really lose, no matter how the election turns out.

Their reasoning, shared by many political observers, goes this way.

Gets Another Chance

If O'Connor loses to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Samuels should be able to maneuver clear of the blame and set himself up as a factor to be reckoned with next time around.

This widely held assessment of Samuels' position in the current election struggle is based on his showing before, during and since the party's nominating convention in Buffalo.

The 46-year-old plastic millionaire waged a lively and imaginative campaign for his party's gubernatorial nomination. He was forced to yield when it became clear that the men who controlled the bulk of the delegates were committed to O'Connor.

But Samuels made a raft of friends along the way, and they jolted the party leadership by shouting through his nomination for the No. 2 spot at Buffalo.

Not First Choice

O'Connor had preferred Orin Lehman, a grandnephew of the late Herbert Lehman. Samuels had not wanted to settle for second place, but he allowed himself to be persuaded that, if he ever was going to make the transition from businessman to elected officeholder, the lieutenant governorship was as good a place as any to start.

In the ensuing campaign, Samuels has demonstrated his party loyalty by pouring all of his energies and a measure of his personal fortune into the effort to beat Rockefeller.

The talent he demonstrated as a campaigner in the pre-convention drive has stood him in good stead and appears to have enlarged his personal following, especially in the Upstate area.

Thus the nucleus of Samuels' admirers in the party believes that events will conspire to bring Samuels out of the election in good political shape—win or lose.

They reason that election as lieutenant governor would advance his career to the point where he would have to be considered for higher office in the future—perhaps a shot at the U.S. Senate in 1968 or at the governorship, whenever an opening arises.

At the same time, an O'Connor defeat would reinforce their argument that the nomination should have gone to a younger, fresher figure—Samuels. It gave him a leg up on the 1970 nomination.

For his own part, Samuels says he is not looking beyond the Nov. 8 election. But a lot of people are looking for him.

Migrant Shot Fatally, Rifle Handled by Boy

Candidate to Visit

According to a letter received by Nathan Pressman of Ellenville from the Campaign Headquarters of the Socialist Labor Party, Milton Herder, the Socialist Labor Party candidate for Governor, will be in Ellenville this Friday. Herder will be interviewed by Adrian Milton of WELV Radio that day from 1:30 to 2 in the afternoon. Herder will present his views, as the Socialist Labor Party candidate, on the issues of the current gubernatorial campaign. The appearance by Herder marks the first time that a Socialist Labor Party candidate has ever visited Ellenville.

Killed was Edwin G. Boldware, who was from Gadsden, Ala., and employed on the Clint Davies farm.

The youth, whose identity was withheld because of his age, picked up the rifle while playing with other youngsters on the farm, deputies said. He pulled the trigger three times, but the weapon only discharged once. The bullet struck Boldware, deputies added.

Authorities said they did not know who owned the rifle, but that they believed it was left on the ground by a hunter. The Davies' farm is on Delhi Road.

Prohibit Liquor, Beer Sales Nov. 8 During Balloting

The New York State Liquor Authority has announced that on Election Day, November 8, 1966, the sale of liquor, wine and beer for on-premises consumption is prohibited throughout the state during the hours when the polls are open — 6 a. m. to 9 p. m.

A statewide prohibition also prevails against the sale of liquor and wine for off-premises consumption during these hours.

Section 105 (14c) of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law provides that "no premises licensed to sell liquor and/or wine for off-premises consumption shall be permitted to remain open on any day of a general or primary election during the hours when the polls are open."

Section 106 (5c) of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law provides that "no alcoholic beverages shall be sold, offered for sale or given away upon the premises licensed to sell alcoholic beverages at retail for on-premises consumption on any day of a general or primary election during the hours when the polls are open."

The Authority also noted that in a number of counties in the state, including Ulster, local ABC Boards have prohibited the sale of beer for off-premises consumption by grocery and drug stores during the hours when the polls are open on Election Day.

Cheyenne, capital of Wyoming, is also the county seat of Laramie county.

Indict Quebec Trio On Bogus Bill Charge

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Three Quebec residents stand indicted on charges of possessing and passing counterfeit $10 Canadian bills in the Saratoga Springs-Glens Falls area earlier this month.

A federal grand jury returned against Roland Masson, 39, Louise Pepin, 34, both of Montreal, and Ovide Allard, 48, of Aston Junction.

State Police arrested the trio Oct. 18. Troopers said that the Canadians had been in the area about a week and that about $1,200 in bogus bills had been reported passed in that time.

The three were ordered held in Albany County Jail.

Stuck in Drain, Sings Until Help Arrives

ROCHDALE, England (AP) — From the depths of a curbside drain came a song from Offenbach's operetta "Orpheus in the Underworld."

The singer was Wasyl Kwyaswarkj, 52, a laborer.

He told the policemen who heard his serenade he had been celebrating and had no idea how he got into the drain. He also had no idea how to get out.

Three policemen tried easing him back to the sidewalk. Wasyl, stuck fast, kept on singing.

The fire brigade arrived, then a squad from the municipal drains department with picks, shovels and a pneumatic drill to rip up the pavement.

Wasyl kept on singing.

Finally the police heaved and up popped Wasyl.

"Whatever happens I always sing," he said. "It's no good being miserable. And if I hadn't been singing no one would have found me there."

The police took him to a hospital for treatment for exposure but decided not to file a charge against him.

Big Task Ahead

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — The House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church ends its week-long meeting today with perhaps its most significant task still ahead.

Still pending is a call for an investigation into "rumors, reports, or allegations" against Bishop James A. Pike.

In one of their last items of business, the bishops were to consider drafting a statement on the war in Viet Nam.

The statement was expected to call for stopping the bombing and other military actions which result in the killing of noncombatants. Spokesmen said it also would include a statement urging inclusion of the National Liberation Front in any peace talks.

Bishop Pike asked for the investigation that would result either in his being cleared of alleged heretical statements or formally censured, perhaps even tried for heresy.

By church law, any clergyman is entitled to an investigation when "rumors, reports or allegations" are circulated against him.

The circus came to America from Europe in about 1792.

Farm, Factory Vote Keys In Illinois Senate Race

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The vote downstate — the farm and factory areas outside Chicago — bulks large in Illinois' contest for a seat in the U.S. Senate.

Balloting in that area has made the difference between defeat and victory in the most recent races of the two major contenders.

Industrialist Charles H. Percy, the Republican nominee, carried the downstate areas by only 44,000 votes in 1964 when he lost his bid for the governorship by 179,000 votes to Democrat Otto Kerner.

Percy One of Best Known
Democrat Paul H. Douglas, bidding for a fourth term, held his GOP challenger, Samuel W. W. Witwer, to a virtual tie downstate in 1960, and built a big margin in Democratic Chicago to win by 437,097 votes.

In 1964, Percy got caught in a Democratic sweep. Douglas, in breezing to his third term, competed against a man who was not well known outside the Chicago area.

This time the senator takes on one of the best known men in Illinois.

Percy, 47, has been rated even or ahead of Douglas, 74, but politicians of both parties profess to see favorable signs.

The Chicago Sun - Times poll gives Percy a 17 per cent lead. State Treasurer William J. Scott, a Republican, says Percy probably will run 20 to 25 per cent better than 1964 in downstate industrial counties.

But Democratic State Chairman James Roman says his party chieftains have found no indications of unusually heavy voter registration that would show citizen dissatisfaction with incumbent Democratic officials.

Roman says he doesn't expect the turnout Nov. 8 to be far from the 3.8 million total vote counted in 1962, the most recent off-year election.

"Every issue is practically running in favor of Republicans," Scott maintains.

He defines them — as does Percy — as Viet Nam policy, the cost of living and crime in the streets.

Roman stresses what he calls the positive issues, topped by prosperity, high-level employment and growth of business.

Man-to-man, it boils down to: what Sen. Douglas has done in 18 years in the Senate, particularly in social reforms, and can do, against the potential service of Percy, who became president of the Bell & Howell Co. (camera manufacturer) at age 29 and board chairman at 41.

Both candidates ceased campaigning for two and a half weeks after Percy's 21-year-old daughter, Valerie, was stabbed and beaten to death Sept. 18 by an assailant who broke into the family home at Kenilworth, a Chicago suburb. The murder has not been solved.

Port Ewen Local Lions Hear Speaker on Narcotics

Guest speaker at the Monday meeting of the Town of Esopus Lions Club was Thomas Mayone, county investigator, who spoke on Narcotics.

The program included a movie and display of narcotics equipment.

Winter Safety Checkoff Should Include Muffler

Only one part of carbon monoxide to 700 parts of air can be fatal.

That's why the Automobile Club of New York urges motorists to include a special check of their car's exhaust system when having their autos winterized.

The dangers of exhaust fumes from a leaky muffler or tailpipe, the Club noted, are compounded in the winter when frigid weather tempts motorists to warm the engine in a closed garage or to drive with the windows shut.

Even in the coldest weather, motorists should take the precaution of leaving one window partially open for proper ventilation.

Other safety measures that should be included along with the normal servicing needed for trouble-free winter driving are:

Adjust brakes, including the emergency brake; check steering and wheel alignment, check windshield wipers and defrosters, examine tires for cuts and breaks and replace badly worn tires.

The Auto Club recommends early November as the ideal time to have a car winterized. It is, the Club noted, far enough ahead of the first expected cold wave to assure protection and service stations are usually able to give the car more careful attention.

Use Political Names

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Politics holds sway, so to speak, even among those who undress before the public for a living.

Until recently, strippers at a theater here used such show business names as Peeler Lawford, Fran Sinatra and Samya Davis Jr.

Now the marquee proclaims Patti Brown, Ronnie Reagan, Glanna Anderson and Roberta Finch.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown is running for re-election against Republican Ronald Reagan. The Democratic lieutenant governor, Glenn M. Anderson, is opposed by Robert Finch.

Probe Bungalow Fire Near School At Blue Mountain

Fire of suspicious origin extensively damaged an unoccupied frame bungalow early today in the Blue Mountain area, across from Grant D. Morse Elementary School.

Centerville Fire Chief Granville Myer said the alarm was turned in at 12:54 a. m. by a nearby resident returning home from work. Some 30 volunteer firemen from both the Centerville and Cedar Grove Companies were on the scene until 2:18 a. m.

Chief Myer said the cause of the blaze is now under investigation. He said the flames apparently started on the outside of the building, which had been vacant for some time.

Ulrich Collection At Montclair Museum

An exhibition of The Edwin A. Ulrich Collection of Paintings by Frederick Judd Waugh will be held beginning Sunday, October 30 at the Montclair Art Museum, Montclair, N. J.

Some 49 selections from the Ulrich collection will be exhibited. They were painted in the many places the artist pursued his favorite subject, the sea. Although the seascapes dominate the exhibition, still lifes, landscapes and portrait are included. The public is invited to attend the showing which will continue for five weeks.

Mr. Ulrich was district governor of Rotary International in the district which includes clubs in Ulster County in the fiscal year 1961-62. He also is a past president of the Poughkeepsie-Arlington Club.

Richard Esterbrook manufactured the first pens in the United States in his factory at Camden, N. J., in 1858.

Killed in Viet

GENESEO, N.Y. (AP) — A Marine corporal whose parents said he never complained about fighting in Viet Nam has been killed in action.

The death of Lance Cpl. Francis P. Roseburgh, 19, of Geneseo was announced Wednesday night by the Defense Department.

"He was no griper," his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Roseburgh said today. "He didn't complain a bit. His letters told of the boys he was with, of the nice friends he had made."

Roseburgh enlisted in the Marines in March 1965, three months after he graduated from Geneseo Central School. He arrived in Viet Nam July 20.

His parents live on Abel Road.

SILLER HAMS

The Finest, Tastiest HAMS Available!

Use Ham Radios to Maintain Contact With Viet Wounded

By JOHN VINOCUR

NEW YORK (AP) — A retired Navy captain, manning a ham radio in the basement of his home, is bringing together the voices of wounded U.S. fighting men on a hospital ship off Viet Nam with their families 9,000 miles away.

"It's an unbelievable surprise for the mothers and fathers. They don't know in advance that it's coming and they just can't get over it sometimes," says A. Blair Jones.

Radios Daily

Jones, an Annapolis graduate who retired from the Navy in 1960 after 30 years, radios daily from his home in Westbury, N.Y., a Long Island suburb, to the U.S.S. Repose.

By making a telephone-radio connection he is able to link the men with their parents or girlfriends in the metropolitan area.

Another ham operator, Brig. Gen. James Smith, U.S.M.C. Ret., does the same thing for West Coast families from his home near San Diego, Calif.

On Tuesday, Jones hooked up Lance Cpl. Leonard McGuire, 23, with his mother Dorothy McGuire in Lakewood, N.J.

"It was the greatest thing in the world. I almost collapsed," Mrs. McGuire said. "There was some static and I couldn't understand everything he said, but thank God he's not seriously hurt. He's going to go back."

Keep in Touch

Jones, who is 58, said his new mission grew out of his desire to keep in touch with ships and his interest in radio.

"I've been in both businesses for a long time. I know General Smith from Annapolis and he prevailed on the commanding officer on the Repose to set up a radio for the men. They bought it out of ship's welfare fund."

The conversations with the Repose have been going on for about the last month. During an hour or so of transmission each day, Jones puts in about three calls.

Builders Hear Candidates

The opponents for Congress from the 27th District were guests of the Home Builders Association of the Hudson Valley at their monthly meeting Tuesday night at the Rhoda Arms, Newburgh. Those appearing were Louis W. Mills, Republican and Congressman John G. Dow, Democrat.

Hints from Heloise

by Heloise Cruse

Dear Heloise:

Perhaps other grandparents might like to know how we keep our five grandchildren occupied when they visit us. We always keep five color books and a lot of crayons on hand.

My husband made blocks from scrap lumber, and I keep them in a large cardboard carton in a closet. In it, I also throw empty spools, plastic containers of all kinds, discarded plastic flowers . . . in short, anything the little ones can make into small gifts.

I also save pretty dress materials, pretty pictures and bits of glitter of any kind for them.

They have spent many a quiet hour improvising gifts—it seems there's always a holiday or birthday coming up in our large family.

Doting Grandma

Dear Heloise:

By chance I came across what I thought was a good and helpful hint for someone like myself who has to wash the dishes in the kitchen sink.

I have an old plastic placemat that I lay in the bottom of the sink.

It's wonderful because it cushions the dishes and I find I have less broken ones.

Vi Neheumuh

Dear Heloise:

I made a chair back and seat cushion for an old rocker.

The material was too heavy to make ties, so I purchased white shoe strings and dyed them.

They came out half a shade darker and blended in beautifully.

Mrs. J. M. Savell

Dear Heloise:

I have several arrangements made of plastic flowers which are all in glass containers, with either glass or metal frogs.

I dreaded the idea of taking them apart to wash the dusty flowers and leaves. So I set them all in the bath tub, turned the water on lukewarm, shut the shower curtain and turned on the shower.

They got beautifully clean! I tilted them over to let the water drain from the container, then set them back upright to drip dry.

In a couple of hours they looked like new arrangements.

Carol Jungblut

Dear Heloise:

In making sweaters for children in a family so they can be passed along down, I use a color suitable for either boys or girls and make button holes on both sides.

Sew the buttons over the button holes on one side, and, if you want to change, just put the buttons on the other side.

Leola Mullen

Dear Heloise:

For those who have bicycles to store for the winter, and don't have space indoors, buy a full size, plastic mattress cover with a zipper.

It fits perfectly, and is inexpensive and cheaper than buying new parts for a rusted bike.

A Reader

Dear Heloise:

My boss's coat sleeve had brushed against something very dusty the other day just before an important luncheon meeting. We couldn't find the clothes brush, so I used three pipe cleaners twisted together and they did a dandy brushing job.

Good idea for an emergency.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Oct. 27, the 300th day of 1966. There are 65 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1945, what was termed the greatest Navy Day celebration in history took place. President Harry S. Truman reviewed 47 warships in the Hudson River while a fleet of 1,200 Navy planes flew overhead.

On this date: In 1858, Theodore Roosevelt, the 26th President of the United States, was born.

In 1904, the first subway in the United States opened in New York.

In 1944, Adm. Chester Nimitz said the Japanese fleet suffered so heavily in the Philippines Sea battle it would be unable to challenge American naval units again.

Ten years ago . . . The Soviet Union reiterated its position on the question of German reunification in notes to the United States, Britain and France, saying the only hope for reunification lay in direct negotiations between West Germany and the Soviet-sponsored East German regime.

Five years ago . . . The U.N. General Assembly adopted by an overwhelming vote a resolution appealing to the Soviet Union to refrain from carrying out its plans to explode in the atmosphere a 50-megaton atomic device before the end of the month.

One year ago . . . South Vietnamese rangers with support from U.S. warplanes repulsed a Communist Viet Cong assault on a South Vietnamese outpost only 20 miles from Saigon.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

Approval Given To Combine Drill, Fire Conference

A proposal to hold a combination competitive drill and fire conference, with emphasis upon safety, brought before the quarterly four-company meeting of the Woodstock Fire Department by Chief Duncan Wilson, met with approval of the delegates Monday night.

It was pointed out that some of the companies hold regular drills while others hold occasional drills, and it was thought that competition on a small scale coupled with demonstration and talks concerning fire fighting "would make the fellows more efficient and better firemen," according to the chief.

Chief Wilson reported a total of 62 fires to date, with one fatality listed—death of the owner of a house in Bearsville. He reported that the recently installed electron system of fire alarm was working well, and requested an up to date inventory of fire equipment from each of the four companies. Equipment orders for 1967 were also to be considered, said the chief.

An auxiliary portable radio was reported available to any of the companies who might need it for an emergency.

Paul VanWageningen, president of Woodstock Fire Co. No. 1, presided. The largest attendance of any four-company meeting held to date, was reported.

The meeting was closed with the observance of a moment of silence honoring the 12 firemen who met death recently in a fire in New York City. Following the meeting, a film from the state fire safety division was shown on the use of water streams on various types of fires.

CE Plans Regional Conference Oct. 29

The regional conference of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union will be held at the Woodstock Reformed Church, Oct. 29 beginning at 9:30 a. m. Young people from the eastern area of the state will assemble at the Woodstock Church at the announced hour for a full day of worship, study and recreation. Juniors will meet at the same hour, in the Christ's Lutheran Church.

This occasion will bring together young people from New York City to Central New York, with no respect to race or denomination, interested only in the building of Christian fellowship and commitment. Meetings are open to the public at large.

Dutch Reformed

Dutch Reformed Church of Woodstock, Village Green, the Rev. Donald Edgar Hicks, minister. At 11 a. m. worship the sermon theme will be Reformed to Service. A nursery is provided for the care of small children during the worship hour. Sunday school 9:15 a. m., classes for all age groups. Adult Bible Class at 9:15 a. m. Senior Christian Endeavor at 7:30 p. m. Monday, Boy Scouts at 7 p. m. Tuesday, Consistory at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, Brownies at 3:30 p. m.; Church Bowling at 6:45 p. m. Thursday, church choir rehearsal at 8 p. m. Friday, Junior Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m.

Christian Science Topic

"Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving kindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions."

This verse from the 51st Psalm is a part of the responsive reading in this week's Lesson-Sermon titled, "Everlasting Punishment," to be read at all Christian Science services this Sunday.

From the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following passage will be read: "Are we benefited by praying? Yes, the desire which goes forth hungering after righteousness is blessed of our Father, and it does not return unto us void."

The Scriptural readings also include the account of the healing by Jesus of the palsied man at the pool of Bethesda.

Sunday services in Woodstock are held at 11 a. m.

Cemetery Tour Is Slated Nov. 5

The Historical Society of Woodstock announces a visit to the various old cemeteries of Woodstock. The tour will take place Saturday, Nov. 5, starting at 12 noon from the new parking lot behind the Bank of Orange County.

The old graveyards of Woodstock contain a wealth of interesting information on the founders and early settlers of the town. The oldest, of course, is the Zena Cemetery where are buried Barent Lewis, who settled in Lewis Hollow about 1787, Wilhelmus Row, who was an early settler in the Lake Hill area, as well as early settlers in the Zena area, originally part of Kingston.

The old part of the Woodstock Cemetery contains records of many early settlers but is certainly best known for Catherine Van DeBogert's grave. "The elm tree grave." There are several veterans of the American Revolution as well as Civil War veterans buried here.

Across Rock City Road on the hill is a graveyard for removals from the Ashokan area when the reservoir was built, and over the hill is the Woodstock Memorial Society's cemetery, informally known as the "artists' cemetery." Here are buried many of those long associated with the arts in Woodstock.

Up Van Dale road by the Apple Monument is the old Riseley family cemetery where is buried Andrew Riseley, but which is better known for the grave of John Shoub, a former Hessian soldier during the Revolution.

In Lake Hill, just off the Mink Hollow Road, is the Hasbrouck family ground where is buried Elias Hasbrouck, Woodstock's first supervisor.

Anyone interested in Woodstock's history and old graveyards is invited to attend. Warm clothes are suggested.

Legion Ladies Name Committee Chairmen

Committee chairmen for 1966-67 were elected during a recent meeting of American Legion Auxiliary, Woodstock Unit 1026. Those elected include:

Mrs. Henry Grazier, American Legion Mountain Camp; Cancer Control Membership, Mrs. Wayne Underhill; Child Welfare Chaplain Rehabilitation, Mrs. Alan Styles; Constitution and By-Laws, Mrs. Wesley O'Brien; Education and Scholarships, Mrs. Roger Grazier; Past Presidents Committee Empire State News, Miss Florence Peper; Coupons, Mrs. Ethel Hasbrouck; Poppies, Civil Defense, Junior activities Music, Mrs. Rudolf Baumgarten; Legislation, Mrs. Ruth Foster; radio and publicity, Mrs. John Branch; Americanism, Foreign Relations, National Security, Historian, Community Service Mrs. Morton Moseman.

The hospital equipment loan closet will be in charge of Mrs. Moseman and Mrs. Styles. The Auxiliary has on hand a hospital bed, wheelchair, walkers, crutches and many miscellaneous items. These items may be used by anyone in need of them and free of charge. Mrs. Moseman or Mrs. Styles of Woodstock may be contacted. This equipment has been purchased by the Ulster County Committee, American Legion Auxiliary, with the proceeds from an annual magazine subscription drive.

The Auxiliary members will soon have tins of cookies which have been so popular in the past. The funds raised from selling these cookies will be used to further the work of the local Auxiliary.

Mrs. Moseman, Mrs. Baumgarten and Mrs. Styles will attend the Third District Fall Conference at Albany on Nov. 21.

PO Borrowing $30 Million for Early Yule Staff

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department, trying to clear its mail-clogged arteries before the massive Christmas rush, has given its system an emergency injection of $30 million.

The money is to pay an estimated 150,000 temporary Christmas workers the post office is hiring a month early this year.

The funds are borrowed from the department's budget for next spring, and the department will have to ask the next Congress in January for another appropriation.

The department wants to avoid another mail pileup of the type that practically paralyzed the Chicago Post Office for two weeks earlier this month.

Last week, Postmaster Gen. Lawrence F. O'Brien said the department intends to put to work by Nov. 1 as many as possible of 150,000 temporary Christmas employees. Usually, they aren't on the job until sometime in December.

The postmaster general announced the additional borrowing Wednesday.

O'Brien noted that third class mail volume has increased nationally during the last accounting period by 10.4 per cent over the same period last year. In some larger offices, he said, volume increases range up to 20 per cent.

Hyde Park Drum Corps Planning Move to Kingston

The Kingston area, long known as a hot-bed of drum and bugle corps enthusiasts, may have yet another fine marching group in its midst. The Parsons Senior Drum and Bugle Corps of Hyde Park in Dutchess County has made known that it is making plans to move to Kingston.

James F. Dugan, of Saugerties, business manager of the corps, told the Freeman in a letter today, "We are looking for a real drum corps town which will give backing and a helping hand to a drum corps such as ours."

Dugan said the Parsons, which presently consist of a female color guard and an all-male playing section, hopes to enlist members from the Kingston area 16-years or older. A public meeting will be held at the Elks Club, 264 Fair Street, Sunday at 2 p. m.

Christ Lutheran Lists Guest Speaker

The Rev. William Young of Eymard Seminary, Hyde Park, will be the guest speaker Sunday at Christ's Lutheran Church. Father Young, a Roman Catholic, belongs to the Order of the Blessed Sacrament Fathers and teaches at the Seminary.

The Rev. Norman C. Krapf, pastor of Christ's Church, reports the appearance of Father Young represents an appropriate way today of observing Reformation Sunday. Reformation Sunday marks the day in 1517 when Martin Luther nailed his 95 theses on the Castle Church door in Wittenberg, Germany, and today this date symbolizes the birth of the Lutheran Reformation and the subsequent division between the Roman Catholic Church and the Lutheran Church.

At four p. m., the United Youth Circle will hold a Wiener roast at the home of Annette Vredenburg. Those attending should bring their own food, marshmallows and beverage.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION ISSUE #1

EDUCATION

GLENN VAN BRAMER is shown with two of his three "good reasons" why he has called education the most important issue at the Constitutional Convention.

"84 sections of the present State Constitution deal with education. One half of our State budget is spent on education. We taxpayers deserve the best for our money. Unfortunately, the many present Constitutional hinderances on school systems deny us this honest value."

"Every child in our State deserves equal treatment under the law. Presently, many students are not receiving the best education our State could offer."

"Our Society can only stop crime, narcotics and poverty through education. I will be heard at the Constitutional Convention."

Revealed at Parley Use Radioactive Atoms to Halt Terminal Cancer

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

TOKYO (AP) — The woman was in a coma from breast cancer that had spread its seeds to her brain.

Ten days later she walked out of the hospital after one injection of radioactive atoms that sped like guided missiles to strike at her widespread cancers.

Lasted 2 Months

The benefits lasted two months. A second treatment brought a similar period of temporary good health until she died.

Several patients have won such reprieves from far-advanced cancers for up to a year, and there are hopes this new weapon can be made far more effective and longer-lasting. Dr. Irving L. Spar of the University of Rochester, N.Y., told the Ninth International Cancer Congress today.

The treatment is based on a finding that fibrinogen — a blood element that helps form blood clots — concentrates around cancerous growths. The reason may be that a cancer sets up an inflammatory reaction, or because of some reaction between the cancer and the host, Dr. Spar said.

Injects Rabbits

Antibodies, or fighters, against fibrinogen are prepared by injecting human fibrinogen into rabbits and then atoms of radioactive iodine-131 are attached to the fibrinogen antibodies.

Normal fibrinogen carries the injected antibodies and their anticancer radioactive rays to the sites of cancer in the human body.

Reporting for a team of researchers, Spar said tests on 175 patients showed that the radioactive material will go more than half the time to the cancer spots, in most types of cancer, and localize there. It has localized every time in bone cancers.

Erie Population Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The population of Erie County, N.Y., increased 2.1 per cent between April 1, 1960 and last April 18, the Census Bureau reported today.

Reporting the results of a special census conducted at the request and expense of Erie County, the bureau put the county's population on April 18 at 1,087,183 compared with 1,064,688 on April 1, 1960.

Other findings:

The population of Buffalo declined from 532,759 to 481,453 or 9.6 per cent.

The male population gained 1.2 per cent. The number of women increased 3 per cent.

The nonwhite population gained by 14 per cent. The number of nonwhite males 11.1 per cent, females 16.8 per cent.

Spanish friars established the first schools in New Mexico in the early 1600's.

China Tests A - Missile

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China announced in a broadcast heard here early Friday that it "successfully conducted over its own territory a guided missile - nuclear weapon test" Thursday.

The official New China News Agency said the "guided missile flew normally and the nuclear warhead accurately hit the appointed distance, effecting a nuclear explosion."

NCNA did not immediately say where the test was conducted.

Alexander Smith Ex-New Jersey Senator Succumbs

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Former U.S. Sen. H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey died today in Princeton Hospital at the age of 86.

Smith, who retired from the Senate in 1959 after serving for 15 years, was admitted to the hospital on Oct. 8 after suffering a stroke at his Princeton home.

He had been on the critical list but showed some improvement about a week ago.

Smith was a Republican senator from New Jersey from 1944 to 1959. He also served as chairman of the Republican State Committee.

Smith, despite a long record of achievements in government, didn't begin his political career until he was 54. At that time he became treasurer of the Republican State Committee.

He divided his working years until that time between his law profession and academic posts at Princeton University.

Flags at Half Staff

For Wales Funerals

ABERFAN, Wales (AP) — Flags flew at half staff throughout Britain as the little Welsh village of Aberfan paused for the mass funeral of 80 of the victims of its landslide disaster.

For the first time since the great mass of coal mine waste crushed the village school and 17 homes last Friday killing at least 145 persons, all work stopped on the disaster site where up to 50 bodies are still missing.

The town was cordoned for the funeral and all traffic stopped.

Funerals of other victims are being held privately.

Queen Elizabeth II is to visit Aberfan Saturday and meet survivors in a hospital at Pontypridd.

A disaster relief fund now exceeds $200,000 with donations from the queen and other members of the royal family heading the list. Postoffices are swamped with thousands of toys for Aberfan's surviving children, sent in answer to an appeal by Princess Margaret.

All the Japanese islands together add up to only 142,500 square miles, less than the area of Montana.

Assembly Heads For Vote Today On African Role

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — The U.N. General Assembly headed for a vote today on the future of South-West Africa as delegates worked to get near-unanimous agreement on a resolution calling for an end to South Africa's rule over the territory.

In an attempt to achieve a solid accord, U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg persuaded the assembly Wednesday to wait another day before acting on a 54-nation Asian-African resolution aimed at putting South-West Africa on the road to independence.

Reports spread that South Africa, which has been under attack in more than a month of assembly debate, may be preparing a dramatic move when the vote comes.

There was speculation that South African Foreign Minister Hilgard Muller might announce that his white supremacist government is quitting the U.N. a move that has often been hinted.

Others doubted Muller would go that far but predicted that his government would use force if necessary to block any move to convert South Africa's old League of Nations mandate over South-West Africa into a U.N. trusteeship. Muller has hinted at this during the debate.

Trapped in Elevator

DETROIT (AP) — "We were afraid if we sat down, we would suffocate," said a telephone operator, one of 15 persons trapped for 95 minutes in a jammed elevator.

The elevator stuck Wednesday between the first and second floors of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. office building from 5:02 p.m. to 6:37 p.m.

"It was extremely hot," said the operator, who declined to be identified. "There was no way to turn on the ventilation fan."

"We piled out coats in a corner, but the sweat was just streaming down our faces."

An elevator company emergency crew finally brought the disabled car to the ground.

Predicts Dem Walk Out

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Georgia Democratic Rep. Charles L. Weltner predicts that Southern delegates will walk out of the 1968 Democratic National Convention after putting the name of Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama in nomination for president.

Weltner, speaking at Stanford University Wednesday on a Peace Corps recruiting tour, also predicted Wallace would carry Alabama and Mississippi at the convention.

Weltner, who recently refused to run for re-election to Congress in protest against the nomination of Democrat Lester G. Maddox for governor of Georgia, predicted "Maddox would win over Republican candidate Howard Callaway."

At the Rose Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — As part of the observance of the 450th anniversary of the start of the Protestant Reformation by Germany's Martin Luther in 1517, Lutherans are planning a float in the Tournament of Roses Parade at Pasadena next Jan. 2 in connection with the annual Rose Bowl football game.

SEN. THOMAS DODD will be back in the spotlight in Washington shortly. The Senate Ethics Committee made known Oct. 26 that it will conduct a public inquiry into Dodd's financial affairs, presumably including charges that he pocketed some campaign funds. (NEA Telephoto)

World News In Brief

Accepts New Post

KINSHASA, Congo (AP) — Brig. Gen. Leonard Mulumba did a sharp about face late Wednesday night and accepted his new appointment as defense minister, Radio Kinshasa reported today.

Mulumba was fired as premier and appointed defense minister by President Joseph D. Mobutu. Mobutu assumed the duties of premier and decreed a "presidential regime."

Mulumba was fired as premier declining the new appointment but later sent a new letter accepting the job.

He suggested that men paid from U.S. aid funds might be loyal to the United States instead of Panama in any dispute over the Panama Canal Zone.

Reaffirms Rules

LONDON (AP) — The British Council of Churches has reaffirmed Christian rules against extramarital sex relations but decided to study a report calling for a new, more compassionate approach to sexual problems.

The council, after six hours of heated argument Wednesday, voted 62 to 10, with two abstentions, to accept the sex and morality report prepared by its working party.

The controversial report, published by the Student Christian Movement Press, has sold 68,000 copies.

The sun shines at the South Pole from September 22 to March 22.

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)

—Australia will continue to give South Viet Nam military and nonmilitary aid as "firmly and as long as aid may be necessary," Prime Minister Harold Holt said today in reporting to the House of Representatives on the Manila conference.

He said no efforts will be spared in the search for peace by South Viet Nam's allies, but that peace will have to be just and enduring.

"We are not engaged in Viet Nam because we want to roll back the frontiers of communism," but because we want to prevent the frontiers of communism from rolling down Southeast Asia," he asserted.

Squatters Leave

ABIQUIU, N.M. (AP) — A band of Spanish-Americans who defied federal authorities regarding ownership of 500,000 acres of forest in northern New Mexico have left the area peacefully.

The Federal Alliance of Land Grants abandoned the Carson National Forest campground without incident Wednesday after U.S. Dist. Court Judge H. Veale Payne in Albuquerque granted a temporary restraining order to prevent possible violence.

Members of the alliance took over the campground Saturday. The alliance said it re-established the town of Pueblo Republic de San Jacinto del Rio de Chama in the forest area near Abiquiu. The alliance said its membership included the rightful heirs under the 1806 Spanish land grant which established the town originally.

Prove Useful

NEW YORK (AP) — Cut-rate tickets are proving useful in lengthening Broadway show runs. Their increased importance is attributed to improved distribution method of "two-fers," the discount coupons which enable a purchaser to get two tickets to a performance for about the list price of one.

Tobacco seeds are as small as ground pepper; a thumbful will plant nearly three acres of cigar leaves.

Deaths

Mrs. Elsie Masterton

GOSHEN, Vt. (AP) — Mrs. Elsie Masterton, 52, an author and the operator of the well-known Blueberry Hill Restaurant died Wednesday at Mary Fletcher Hospital in Burlington after a long illness.

When she and her husband, John, who died earlier this year, settled in Vermont, they planned to start a ski development. That season they found little snow and no skiers, however, and turned instead to the restaurant work.

They collaborated on a book, "Nothing Whatever to Do," which described their experiences and made best seller lists. Mrs. Masterton later wrote "Blueberry Hill Cookbook" and similar volumes.

Mrs. Masterton also participated at times on the "Farm Paper of the Air" program broadcast by radio station WGY in Schenectady, N.Y.

Robert Geronimo

MESCALERO, N.M. (AP) — Robert Geronimo, 77, a son of the famous Apache Indian chief who defied the U.S. government for 10 years died Tuesday.

Rocky Insists Race Is Close Despite New Poll

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller insisted today that he was still running a neck-and-neck race with Frank D. O'Connor despite a new poll that gave him a significant lead over his Democratic rival for governor.

"I just don't believe it," Rockefeller said of the poll results. "It's a very close race, in my opinion."

Pleased by Report

The Republican governor held the first and second fingers of his right hand close together to illustrate his point.

Rockefeller obviously, however, was pleased by the poll report, as he grinned broadly and exchanged banter with newsmen while discussing the findings Wednesday night.

His comments carried forward the position he has taken throughout the campaign — that he probably is the underdog and at best running even with the New York City Council president in their gubernatorial race.

Rockefeller's political advisors feel that this is the best strategy to pursue if he is to keep his campaign organization at peak effectiveness.

The governor was informed of the poll as he concluded an Upstate campaign swing that began in the Utica area.

The survey was taken by the Oliver Quayle Associates under contract with the National Broadcasting Co., an aide to the governor said.

Gives Rocky 40 PC

The statewide survey of voter preference gave Rockefeller 40 per cent, O'Connor 27 per cent, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. 14 per cent and Paul L. Adams 6 per cent, with 13 per cent undecided.

Roosevelt is the Liberal party nominee and Adams is the Conservative party candidate.

Quayle adjusted his findings by distributing his undecided vote and came up with these final percentages:

Rockefeller 45, O'Connor 33, Roosevelt 16 and Adams 6.

Earlier, the governor had expressed some discomfort over various newspaper polls that showed Roosevelt doing well in normally Republican territory.

"He's hurting me Upstate — providing an escape clause for a protest vote against me," he told The Associated Press.

Demonstrates Concern

Rockefeller demonstrated this concern at various campaign stops during which he told audiences that a vote for Roosevelt really was a vote for O'Connor.

"Don't think you're taking a runoff powder by voting for Roosevelt," he told a group of about 300 persons in Herkimer.

"If you want to vote for O'Connor, then have the courage to do so. You are avoiding a choice by going for Roosevelt."

The governor also stepped up his attack on O'Connor, branding him as "the candidate of the big-city machine" and maintaining that O'Connor's tax policies could force a cut of 20 per cent in state aid for public schools.

Critical of Suggestion

Addressing a GOP reception in Ithaca, Rockefeller criticized O'Connor's suggestion that the state should consider granting state income tax credits to low-income taxpayers to offset the state's sales tax.

He said this would cut about $350 million from the revenues of the state and local government that levy a sales tax.

But, he said, O'Connor's only suggestion for recouping the revenue was to eliminate income tax deductions for life insurance payments — a device that he said would recover only about $30 million but would add many low-income persons to the income tax rolls.

The governor enjoyed large and apparently friendly crowds during his campaign appearances. The largest was on the campus of Cornell University, where about 1,500 students turned out in late afternoon to hear him discuss his education programs.

He flew from Ithaca to Long Island for a round of campaign appearances today.

Exchange Problems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police will learn about the problems of residents in low-income areas and such residents will learn about police problems in a project planned by Ohio State University.

Columbus Community Relations Director Walter R. Tarpley said the program hopefully would help bring about understanding between the two groups.

A group of Columbus residents will be invited to attend classes next month on police duties and responsibilities, as well as poverty problems and racial prejudice.

A group of policemen will attend classes dealing with "inner city" problems in housing, employment and education.

Bennett Is Kept Pretty Busy in One-Man Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television — or a few imaginative men within it — is developing an interesting special form, the one-man show in which camera work and production values are almost as important as the talent of the star.

Over the past couple of seasons we have had a pair of Barbara Streisand hours and another with Frank Sinatra. Wednesday night on ABC, there was Tony Bennett.

From opening moment to closing titles, it was music and lyrics all the way, and very good music indeed.

Bennett, who has a fine voice, an intense way with lyrics and a physical style all his own, was backed up by a huge orchestra. The setting for most of the show was a curious set that looked like a traffic interchange on empty freeways with a studio audience scattered around in little circular islands.

Covering the set kept Bennett pretty busy — sometimes a little too active — but he packed a lot of songs into the period, ranging in mood from comedy to ballad.

Most interesting, visually, was a portion consisting of a stroll by Bennett around some familiar San Francisco landmarks.

Joe Cates, a TV producer of broad experience, has been rushed to CBS' "Garry Moore Show" and is functioning like a specialist at the bedside of a dying patient.

Moore's variety show may not be dying, but it is awfully sick, suffering from chronic competition of "Bonanza" complicated by internal troubles and an acute case of low ratings.

Cates, replacing Perry Cross, has now had what he called "five 48-hour days" on the show and has prescribed a stimulant: An hour version of the 1947 musical, "High Button Shoes."

"It is part of the plan," he said. "We'll put on a special of some kind every three weeks. We don't expect miracles, but we do know that specials increase ratings — persuade viewers to resample a series. Then, if they find they like it, perhaps they'll come back the next week."

His diagnosis of the internal troubles, after studying four productions, is that it lacks focus.

The break into specials will start on Nov. 20.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Education Week Themes Listed; Starts Nov. 6th

NEW PALTZ—The New York State Teachers Association in cooperation with the National Education Association, the United States Office of Education, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the American Legion is sponsoring the observance of American Education Week throughout New York State. The week of Nov. 6 to 12, will offer an opportunity for all members of the community to focus attention on the work of the schools.

The theme for the week of Nov. 6 will be Education Adds Up. Geared to this will be seven pertinent topics, one for each day, as follows: Sunday, Nov. 6, Education Adds Up to Human Dignity; Monday, Nov. 7, Education Adds Up to National Thinking; Tuesday, Nov. 8, Education Adds Up to a Creative Spirit; Wednesday, Nov. 9, Education Adds Up to Self-Reliance; Thursday, Nov. 10, Education Adds Up to Economic Competence; Friday, Nov. 11, Education Adds Up to Informed Citizenship; Saturday, Nov. 12, Education Adds Up to Lifelong Opportunity.

Local Observance

In observance of American Education Week, the Parent Teachers Association of New Paltz

High School is sponsoring a Parents Visit the School Night on Tuesday, Nov. 8 at 7 p. m. Parents will be able to follow their child's schedule through the day. Class sessions will last ten minutes, giving teachers an opportunity to summarize the work their students are covering.

Parents of all students in grades seven through 12 are also invited to visit the school during school hours to attend any class or classes they wish from Monday, Nov. 7 through Thursday, Nov. 10. School will be closed on Veterans Day, Nov. 11. Classes begin at 8:45 a. m. and continue for eight periods of 45 minutes each.

Visitors should report to the main office first. Lunch is served in the cafeteria from 11:06 until 12:30 and visitors may buy a school lunch.

Safety Citation

The New Paltz Central School District was among the 48 Supervisory Districts of New York State to receive a safety citation for their school bus operations.

Frank VanGonsic, contractor, who operates 15 school buses and the drivers of the nine school-operated buses are to be congratulated.

Navy ROTC Test Set December 10

Applications for the Navy's 21st annual regular NROTC qualification test are now available according to Thomas P. Benenati Guidance Director, at the New Paltz Central School. This nationwide examination will be given on Dec. 10, and all eligible male high school seniors and graduates may apply.

On the basis of this test, personal interviews, medical examinations and other factors, Benenati explained, over 1,700 young men will enter the regular NROTC program as midshipmen at NROTC units in 52 colleges and universities throughout the nation. Male citizens of the United States who will be at least 17 but not yet 21 on June 30, 1967, and are now school seniors or graduates, may be eligible to apply for the test. Those who attain qualifying scores will be interviewed and given medical examinations next January and February.

A successful candidate receives financial aid for four years of college. This includes tuition and educational fees, books, uniforms, and $50 per month subsistence allowance. After successfully completing baccalaureate degree requirements and naval training, graduates are commissioned officers in the U. S. Navy or Marine Corps. Regular NROTC midshipmen participate in three summer cruises with various afloat units. These cruises help them learn more about the variety of interesting and challenging opportunities available to them as naval or marine corps officers.

Registrations for the test will close on Nov. 18. The 1967 NROTC bulletins containing eligibility requirements and qualifying test applications are available from Benenati.

Stately Fir Will Be Christmas Symbol of Peace

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Somewhere in the silent Sierra stands a stately fir tree that will be the national symbol of peace on earth this Christmas.

The 65-foot fir, selected in semisecrecy more than a year ago, will be felled in mid-November and transported across the continent to Washington D.C.

There, it will be lighted in its full glory Dec. 16 as the National Community Christmas Tree — part of the Christmas pageant of peace, held annually since 1954 on the ellipse south of the White House.

The precise location of the national Christmas tree remains a secret, but it's a ride of an hour and a half by trucked snow vehicle from Interstate 80, the major trans-Sierra route between Sacramento and Reno.

The tree was selected by foresters of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. on the firm's watershed property near 7,240-foot Donner Summit.

Larry McDonnell, a spokesman for the utility, said there's good reason for keeping the site confidential.

"We don't localize it any closer because we were afraid people would seek it out and carve their initials in it, or break branches off."

Eight Viets

decks Wednesday shortly before President Johnson visited the big U.S. base at Cam Ranh Bay 180 miles northeast of Saigon.

It was the Navy's worst disaster of the war.

35 Return to Duty

Three of the casualties were seriously injured and were taken to a hospital in Da Nang. A civilian photographer aboard the Oriskany said he was told 35 other crewmen suffered minor burns but all were back on duty by evening.

Thirty-four of the dead were set pilots who were sleeping in quarters forward of the flare locker and were suffocated by the dense smoke.

The Oriskany was scheduled to arrive at the U.S. Naval Station at Subic Bay in the Philippines late today.

In the air over the North Wednesday, U.S. Air Force jets flew through intense anti-aircraft fire and damaged two gun emplacements 30 miles northwest of coastal Dong Hoi with 500-pound bombs. Pilots said each battery had six anti-aircraft guns.

Bomb Radar Site

Navy jets from the Constellation bombed a radar site and two cargo barges 20 miles southwest of Vinh. Flares said they destroyed the barges and caused a large explosion at the radar site.

In the scattered ground fighting, U.S. Marines reported catching 40 enemy soldiers in a crossfire and killing at least six on a ridge 25 miles southwest of Quang Tri. The Marines called in air and artillery support and said the enemy fled in disorder. The Marines were on patrol in Operation Prairie, a three-month-old campaign to reduce infiltration by North Vietnamese troops.

In the central coastal sector, 47 miles northwest of Qui Nhon, a unit of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Airmobile Division reported killing five Viet Cong in a 30-minute engagement. No U.S. casualties were reported. Troops of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division reported they killed eight Viet Cong in three hours of skirmishes Wednesday night and today in an area of streams and canals five to 10 miles northeast of Saigon. Two sampans were destroyed.

South Vietnamese headquarters said a Vietnamese militia unit killed 10 Viet Cong and captured one in an attack on a Viet Cong base 30 miles south of Da Nang near the seacoast town of Que Son. No casualties among the militia were reported.

Rocky Labels

the gubernatorial race. Rockefeller has garnered support from union leadership representing about half of the state's two million organized workers, and some union chiefs are said to fear that a whole-sale endorsement of either candidate could wreck a statewide split in labor circles.

O'Connor, who also is to address the convention, meanwhile reiterated Democratic charges that Rockefeller was spending $20 million in his effort to be re-elected.

The New York City Council president said in a statement in New York City that his own campaign expenses would amount to approximately 2.5 per cent of what Rockefeller was spending.

He praised the "good judgment" of the state's voters "in resisting the $20 - million sales campaign maintained since the first of this year by the manufacturers and purveyors of that cure - all for governmental and social problems - 'Rockefeller's Corn.'"

At the same time, Liberal party candidate Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. planned a round of appearances in New York City today before going to Rochester and eventually to Olean for a swing through Upstate counties.

Conservative nominee Paul L. Adams scheduled tours of General Electric and Westinghouse plants in Buffalo and a trip to speak before Southern Tier supporters in Binghamton.

Roosevelt also planned to speak to the State AFL - CIO gathering.

In other appearances today, Rockefeller dedicated an 8-mile stretch of the Long Island Expressway in Suffolk County and scheduled a talk to the Suffolk County Republican Women's Committee.

O'Connor planned street campaigning in Brooklyn and stops at St. Francis College and St. John's University before going on to an address as the Brooklyn chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Continue Bitter Feud

O'Connor and Roosevelt continued their bitter, personal feud today as Dore Schary, a theatre-producer and chairman of the O'Connor for Governor Citizens Committee, attacked the Liberal nominee's history as a publicist for former Caribbean dictator Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic.

Schary charged that Roosevelt gained $50,000 in 1956 as a registered American agent for a man whose "dictatorship was denounced throughout the civilized world."

The attack followed one made by Roosevelt upon O'Connor Wednesday as a "small man" with a "poor record as a district attorney and a non - record as City Council president."

Meanwhile, O'Connor said Wednesday that Rockefeller was not "personally corrupt," as the Democrat hammered away at the theme that corruption was rampant in the state administration.

He cited the State Liquor Authority scandal, naming L. Judson Morhouse, former state GOP chairman, and Martin Epstein, former SLA chairman.

In other major developments Wednesday, —In Ithaca, Rockefeller was reported to have posted a comfortable lead over O'Connor in a privately conducted poll. The results were said to give Rockefeller support from 45 per cent of the voters against 33 per cent for O'Connor.

—In Albany, State Comptroller Arthur Levitt, a Democrat, won the support of the 50,000 - member Police Conference of New York in his bid for re-election.

In New York, Republican Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz defended his office's Consumer Frauds Bureau as "the first of its kind in the country" in answer to criticism by Buffalo Mayor Frank Sedita, his Republican opponent. In Rochester, meanwhile, Sedita charged that Lefkowitz employed lawyers for the state who continued to maintain private practices.

Rosary Society Holds Meeting

Investiture services for new members of the Altar and Rosary Society of St. John's Church, Veteran, with Father William Burke officiating, took place prior to the regular monthly business meeting of the Society at the parish hall last week.

Conducting the meeting was Mrs. Marion Benz, president, who said cancer pads would be available at the next meeting and urged members to participate in this worthy cause for Rosary Hill Cancer Home. A special meeting will be held to prepare pads for sewing.

Christmas cards are now available and will go on sale after the Sunday masses at Veteran and Quarryville.

During the meeting, Mrs. Kay McLaughlin was presented with a past president's pin by Mrs. Benz, and Arthur Roy, of the New York Telephone Company, presented a film on the Hudson River Valley. Mrs. Alice Rusconi, program chairman, has promised an equally interesting guest for the November meeting.

Father William Burke, new administrator of St. John's parish, was introduced and addressed the meeting. He asked for continued cooperation by the Society in parish activities during the absence of Father Leo Laffin, pastor of St. John's Church.

PHOENICIA NEWS

Hearing St. Nov. 16

On Tax Exemptions

PHOENICIA — A public hearing has been set by the town board of the Town of Shandaken, Nov. 16 at 8:30 p. m. at the town hall, Allaben, for the purpose of discussing real property exemption, a new section of the real property tax law on property owned by persons 65 years of age or older.

To be eligible for the exemption, the income of the owner must not exceed $3000. Title must have been vested in the owner for at least 60 consecutive months, and the property must be the legal residence of the owner and be used exclusively for residential purposes.

Officers Elected

At the Oct. 25 meeting of the Senior Citizens Club of Shandaken Township in Phoenicia the following officers were elected. President, George Bergen; vice president, Mrs. Rose Porzio;

Secretary, Mrs. Roberta Rubin; treasurer, Mrs. John Orie. The next meeting will be Nov. 8.

Area Social Notes

Mrs. Jennie Breithaupt has closed her house for the winter and is now residing at the Lake Hill Rest Home. Friends may visit her any time.

At the worship service next Sunday, the new hymnals will be dedicated by Rev. George B. Moody, pastor of the Methodist Church.

Down U. S. Grant Probe

PANAMA (AP) — The National Assembly voted 25-10 Wednesday night not to consider an opposition motion to investigate a $500,000 U.S. grant to provide 500 additional National Guardsmen.

Socialist Deputy Carlos Ivan Zuniga called the grant an act of intervention by the United States and the government's acceptance of the money an "act of treason."

4 Elder Citizens Die in Utah Fire

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Fire — which an investigator said might have been deliberately set — broke out under a wooden staircase and raced through a three-story building Wednesday night, killing four elderly and middle-aged women.

Eight other residents of the brick apartment house were hospitalized after the blaze flashed up the center hallways. The fire was brought under control within an hour but not before the mostly elderly residents had run screaming into the street or, in a few cases, had dropped from second- and third-story windows to bushes or the waiting arms of neighbors.

Fire Marshal William Kresser said he was checking the possibility of arson. Apartment custodian Warren Chadwick said he saw a young man run from the building vicinity 10 or 15 minutes before the fire was spotted at 10:10 p. m. The building, Chadwick said, had been hit by petty vandalism in recent weeks.

The work climax comes from Greek meaning ladder.

Central Hudson Recognizes IBEW Bargaining Agent

At a recent meeting with representatives of the Central Hudson Employees' Association and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation agreed to recognize the IBEW as the bargaining agent for approximately 340 clerical and certain maintenance employees formerly represented by the CHEA.

Although some details of the affiliation have not yet been resolved, it was agreed that the existing working agreement between the Company and the CHEA would remain in effect until its expiration on June 30, 1967, but with the IBEW as the new bargaining agent.

The CHEA, an independent union, has for 30 years represented Central Hudson's clerical and certain maintenance employees with respect to wages, hours of work and other conditions of employment. In a recent ballot a substantial majority of CHEA members voted to terminate the Association's independent status and to affiliate with the IBEW.

Central Hudson president, Lelan F. Sillin Jr., commenting on the affiliation, said "The Central Hudson management has long believed that employees should be free to choose the form of representation which will best serve their long-term interests."

"We believe that the decision of the CHEA to affiliate with IBEW represents the will of a large majority of CHEA members. We look forward to a continuation of the constructive relationship which we have long enjoyed with all of our employees and with the IBEW."

This development will have no effect on the existing agreement between the utility and IBEW Local 320 which represents approximately 630 Central Hudson production and maintenance employees.

Real Cool Maids

DETROIT (AP) — The meter maids were angry about it being too cold.

"We're not going back out there until it warms up," they said.

And they didn't, until the temperature climbed from 33 degrees into the 40s Wednesday morning.

Eleven of the maids abandoned their motorbikes for the comfort of hot coffee indoors. Three didn't.

Their main complaint: They're still in summer uniforms — cotton slacks, short jackets, and whatever paraphernalia they can pile on. Winter jackets are on order but haven't arrived yet. Custom-made slacks lie unworn on a counter in the main office.

"To begin with, when we join 'Marblehead, McLean, Mandamus and Fiecke, we leave Carnaby Street behind!'"

"... And in keeping with company policy, when we manufacture a new line of clothing..."

"Tell me, just as a matter of personal interest, to what school do you plan to go back?"

JIM BERRY, NEA'S MAN WITH FORKED PEN, delights in taking sharp looks at America's mod explosion. Some of the new clothes are, admittedly, easy to satirize. But Berry does make a point. Now that the clothes are available, it is up to the buyer to decide when to wear them. And that is a question of taste.

Spent Year in Viet. Requests More Action

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Marine who spent more than a year in Viet Nam combat was due home on a furlough today before being reassigned in the war zone at his own request.

But Lance Cpl. Ronald Bennett, 19, of nearby Grove City, doesn't know now whether volunteering to go back will accomplish what he hoped it would — the return from Viet Nam of his 18-year-old brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Bennett Sr., the Marines' parents, telephoned Ronald at Camp Lejeune, N.C. to report that his brother, Harold Jr., had been wounded seriously and is in a hospital at Da Nang.

This means that Harold Jr. may get to come home anyway. But if he recovers fully, he still could be sent back to the fighting zone.

Ronald planned to return to Viet Nam and arrange for his brother's return under armed services rules saying two brothers cannot be required to fight at the same time.

Charges Dismissed

Burglary charges dealing with alleged theft of a bath tub from a vacant house at 75 Hasbrouck Avenue, owned by the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, lodged recently against Edward Johnson, 59, of 77 Hasbrouck Avenue, and Vidal Gutierrez, 36, of Escopus, were dismissed today after preliminary hearing before Special City Judge George A. Beck for lack of sufficient evidence. They had been arrested by Officer Curtis VanDemark. Attorney William C. Mullany appeared for Johnson, Marshall C. Lipton for Gutierrez and Assistant District Attorney James H. Fisher for the prosecution. John P. Allen, 19, of 27 Boulevard, charged with speeding, fined $25.

Rosendale-Tillson Democrats Hear Guest Speakers At Fall Meeting

G. W. Eris Telephone OL 8-9850

The newly appointed Democratic committeeman for the third election district was introduced at the October meeting of the Rosendale Democratic Club Inc. at the community building in Maple Hill.

He is Erick Reich. Joseph Reid, town chairman introduced him. John Lizzan reported on the last committeemen's meeting.

Guest speaker was Kingston City Court Judge Hubert Richter who spoke on the proposition and each of the amendments to be voted on Nov. 8. The Rev. Richard E. Lake, pastor of the Bloomington and St. Remy Reformed Churches spoke on the seventh amendment which proposes a state lottery to obtain funds for education. The Rev. Mr. Lake is a member of the executive committee of the Committee of 100,000 against the State Lottery.

A social hour with refreshments followed.

Parades Celebrates Stamp Honoring GI

SIoux CITY, Iowa (AP) — Bands played and marchers paraded here Wednesday to inaugurate a new postal stamp in appreciation of U.S. servicemen and to honor school children who thought up the idea.

The colorful ceremony in which reds, whites and blues predominate marked issuance of the five-cent stamp which went on sale nationwide today.

It was first sold aboard the hospital ship Repose in the waters off Viet Nam at the hour of the observance here. The stamp bears the American flag, Statue of Liberty and the words "We Appreciate Our Servicemen."

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien was on the reviewing stand as 4,000 marchers passed by and about 8,500 spectators watched.

In the parade were last year's ninth-graders of North Junior High for whom the ceremony was arranged. They raised money for billboards and bombarded government officials with letters until the idea of the stamp jelled.

Showboat Brings Theatre

ZURICH (AP) — A showboat touring towns along the banks of Lake Zurich is the latest stimulus to theatrical activity in Switzerland's largest city. The project has been organized by George Mueller, who plans a tour of repertory including legit dramas, concerns, lectures and satirical cabaret.

Earliest Ukrainian immigrants came before the American Revolution. The largest numbers arrived between 1890 and 1914.

Retain Ellenville Light Rate Status

In response to inquiries by electric customers in the Ellenville Electric Company service area, Central Hudson President, Lelan F. Sillin Jr., said today area, Central Hudson President, now intend to make any early change in the rates charged to customers of the Ellenville Electric Company.

He noted that the two companies are now preparing applications to the Public Service Commission and the Federal Power Commission for approval of the proposed merger.

"It is our present intention," he said, "that Ellenville's tariff's some of which result in slightly higher and others in slightly lower average rates than Central Hudson's will be retained initially for customers in Ellenville's service territory."

"It is expected that in due course those Ellenville Company tariffs which result in higher average rates than Central Hudson's will be adjusted to conform to Central Hudson's rates for similar service."

To Try Forum

UNICEF Nobel Prize Winner
Editor, The Freeman

In reference to the Mr. John Brode's criticism of UNICEF on October 9 in Letters to the Editor, may I ask:

Are you aware that UNICEF received the Nobel Prize for its contribution to peace in 1965? Do you think this award could be made without thorough investigation?

And do you believe that a child must be Christian to be entitled to health and an adequate diet? Surely that is not the thought of Jesus.

Is it more important that our largesse constantly be recognized or that we help children who could never attain aid without our help through organizations such as UNICEF?

This is what a contribution to UNICEF means to needy children throughout the world:

1¢ buys five glasses of milk.
5¢ buys vaccine to protect five children from TB.
$10 buys penicillin to cure 400 children of yaws, a crippling contagious disease.

Remember that disease germs do not recognize political boundaries, either!

Sincerely,
NATALIE P. EARNEST

Battle-Hardened Marines Get Real Charge From LBJ Visit

By JOHN LENGEL

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) "He's got a good head for details," said Gunny Sgt. Clovis C. Coffman Jr. of the tall Texan he had chow with. "He'd make a fine Marine operations officer."

President Johnson pinned the Navy Cross on the Marine from Richmond, Va., during the President's visit Wednesday to the big U.S. base at Cam Ranh Bay. Then Johnson invited Coffman, 34, and others he decorated to join him in the Air Force mess hall.

Eats With Men

After collecting pork roast, mashed potatoes and apple pie in the chow line, the President sat down at a long table and beckoned enlisted men to join him. More than 90 Marines, carrying their rifles and with packs on their backs, took their seats.

"Those weapons drove the Secret Service man nuts," Coffman said.

The President's bodyguard who had a camera around his neck, told one 6-foot-4 Marine corporal to see that his machine-gun barrel was pointed away from the vicinity of the President.

"You take care of your camera and I'll take care of my piece," the corporal replied between bites.

Johnson picked at his food, sipped lemonade and talked with the Marines.

"The troops were so glad to see him. They were tickled to death. You could feel their excitement," Coffman said.

Coffman got his Navy Cross for a brutal 40 minutes 10 miles south of Chu Lai on Oct. 10. He and his 12-man reconnaissance patrol were surrounded and then attacked by Viet Cong. Two Marines were killed and Coffman and eight others were wounded.

Coffman killed one Viet Cong with his knife, saw that the dead and wounded among his own men were evacuated, directed the defense and salvaged every piece of his patrol's equipment.

Coffman was wounded by shrapnel from a grenade in the head, shoulder and legs. The wounds got him his sixth Purple Heart. He earned four others in Korea and the fifth earlier in Viet Nam.

Patient Drops to Death

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Arthur G. Earl, 65, of Rochester, a patient in Rochester State Hospital, fell or jumped over 100 feet to his death Wednesday from the Driving Park Avenue Bridge, police said.

The bridge spans the Genesee River, but Earl's body landed on a service road along the river, detectives said. His address was 86 Northview Ter.

Rocky to Cover All 62

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller has made campaign appearances in 41 of the state's 62 counties and plans to visit the last one next week.

He ticked off the 61st county on his list Wednesday with his sortie into Tompkins County.

He is to visit Orleans County Monday, which will complete the all-county effort.

E-J Subsidiary Elects

ENDICOTT, N.Y. (AP)—Juwett F. Neley Jr. is the new president of Walter L. Johnson Co. Inc., a subsidiary of Endicott Johnson Corp., succeeding Clyde Potter, who retired.

Neley was named Wednesday to head the subsidiary, which makes and sells leather goods and shoe components.

Questions Often Asked About Chest Drives

What happens if the goal of $299,600 is not raised? This is a very significant question as the campaign nears the close and we are thousands of dollars short. It is necessary to emphasize the goal is the composite total of the requirements of the 13 agencies in the Chest for 1967. It is not artificially set and it is after the budget committee has reviewed each agency's expense budgets for the coming year to remove unnecessary expenses. So, therefore, if the goal is not raised it will be necessary to reduce the recommended allocations of the budget committee for each agency. This means the agencies will have to curtail their program, pinch on their expenses and risk the provided level of service. This explanation may seem obvious but should be remembered we have never reached the goal to date and have never had the funds deemed necessary. In other words they have been living on starvation diets.

Raising the goal insures an adequate level of service to our community. Ulster County is a good place to live and work. Let's keep it that way by everyone giving as he is able, a fair share for all 13 agencies.

Next: Why wasn't the Salvation Army in the Chest last year.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (P) — W. Averell Harriman, American ambassador at large, arrived today to discuss the Viet Nam war and economic matters with top Indonesian leaders.

Harriman's trip was ordered by President Johnson so Harriman could explain the result of the Manila summit meeting to Asian and European countries.

Stolen Truck Found

Phillip Posner of Millers Lane reported to the sheriff's office at 3:40 a. m. today that his 1962 half ton panel truck had been taken from his premises. Later he reported the truck had been located. It was undamaged.

Dear Abby . . .

Young Boy Deserves Better Explanation

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were divorced before Jimmy was born. Jimmy has just entered kindergarten and is asking a lot of questions about where his daddy is. His father lives here in town, has remarried and built a life of his own. He pays child support but has not seen Jimmy in years. I told the boy his daddy went to war and "missing" so maybe he is in heaven with Jesus.

My friends say I should have told him the truth, but I just couldn't because if he knew his daddy was here in town and didn't care enough about him to come and see him he would feel very hurt and would probably hate his father. Please tell me what to do.

DEAR VEGAS: Wait until the time is right. Then tell Jimmy the truth. And explain that you made up that story about his daddy being missing because you thought at the time he was too young to bear the truth. (It's true.)

You can't keep Jimmy from being "hurt" because his daddy doesn't visit him. But you can try to keep the boy from "hating" him by explaining that daddy may have reasons "we don't know about" for staying away — which could also be true.

DEAR ABBY: What is the difference between "mademoiselle" and "madame?" R.F.J.

DEAR R.F.J.: "Monsieur."

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 and my boy friend is 17. My parents tell me I cannot have my boy friend over while they are gone. Well, he comes over anyway. This is purely accidental. I tell him to call first, but he doesn't call, he just comes over and when my parents come home and find him here I get killed.

We don't do anything wrong, Abby. We just listen to records, watch TV, and talk. Now just tell me what we're doing wrong. Please print this, as I am — IN DEEP WITH DAD

DEAR IN DEEP: You are disobeying your parents' instructions, and your boy friend is ignoring yours. If you refused to let him in when your parents are not at home, he wouldn't continue to come over unannounced, and then you wouldn't get "killed." Neither would you be "in deep" with dad.

DEAR ABBY: My husband went to a party last Friday night. In fact I drove him there. This was a party for all the guys in his shop. My husband told me there wouldn't be any wives there. I later found out that there were lots of wives there — that the husbands were told to invite them.

When I called him on it he swore up and down he didn't know he was supposed to invite me. Should I believe him? I am so hurt. I have been crying all day.

DEAR HURT: How's your husband's record for integrity? If it's good, believe him.

How has the world been treating you? Unload your problems on Dear Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal, unpublished reply, enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — The editorial said the Democratic candidate "is determined to be a governor in line with the best traditions of his party's history in the state: Al Smith, Franklin Roosevelt, Herbert Lehman and Averell Harriman."

The endorsement appeared in the newspaper's Tuesday edition, in an editorial signed by co-publisher and editor James L. Loeb.

NEW YORK (AP) — Matthew Culligan, the super salesman who was the target of a mutiny two years ago while head of Curtis Publishing Co., has returned to executive life again—a bit more philosophical now but just as zealous.

Culligan, 28, retired from executive ranks for two years after the Curtis debacle, his ego bruised and his record of successes broken. But in his second day as president of Mutual Broadcasting System, he commented:

Will Be Tough

"I'm going to work very, very hard for the next two or three years. It's going to be very rough."

He wasn't complaining. He said it with his old passion for work and results.

Culligan became an almost legendary salesman. At Curtis he averaged 3,300 miles of travel a week, worked 14 to 15 hours a day and some said was making headway in pulling the big publishing company out of the red. He could sell. Everyone agreed.

Except for military service, which cost him his left eye, Culligan's adult life has been spent in advertising and sales. He began as a salesman and no matter what executive job he filled he still sold, too. He has been a spieler, space salesman, advertising director, television salesman.

4-H Club News

Little Women

The Little Women of Washington Avenue met for the third meeting of their food project Time for Lunch, Paula Robinson and Lisa Supies practiced their demonstrations for County 4-H Day to be held on Saturday, Nov. 5. Tracey Bowers did a demonstration on sandwiches for the club.

Plans are being made by leader Mrs. Elwood Robinson and Junior Leader Judy Ablove and the older members of the group to prepare a luncheon on November 11 for their mothers.

Baptist Lottery

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP) — Baptists in this country have long opposed gambling. But American Baptist headquarters here notes in its news service that Baptists of Denmark are sponsoring a lottery to help meet a current deficit budget.

As executive vice president of the National Broadcasting Co.'s radio network his salesmanship helped erase losses. After three years he reportedly put the netting in the black. And then he became an ad executive.

"I try to think for the buyers," he says. "I try to make it easy for an intelligent person to buy. And I'm a very good research man so I haven't had to pound on a desk in 25 years."

Executive and employee discontent against his methods led to an open revolt at Curtis, publisher of the Saturday Evening Post and other magazines, Culligan resigned.

For the next two years little was heard of this man who once was the center of action, excitement, news, developments of one kind or another. He retreated from sales and wrote a history of the Curtis organization.

Culligan announced that his first job at Mutual will be to build the business, and he's planning an itinerary that will demand the usual killing, cross-country itinerary in search of ads.

"I've always made a practice of delivering 25 per cent of the business myself and I intend to do it here," he said.

Entertainers Are Heavily Involved in Coast Politics

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) —
"Strangers in the night. Scuby dubey doo. Strangers in the night."

Frank Sinatra was singing his latest hit song, not for the crapshooters of Las Vegas, but for Democrats and other persons willing to pay from $3 to $10 for a "Night of Stars" at the Los Angeles sports arena. Other stars at the show last week were Joey Bishop, Danny Kaye, Trini Lopez, Dean Martin, Danny Thomas and Nancy Wilson, and their purpose was to raise money and enthusiasm for Edmund G. Brown's campaign for governor.

Folkier Support

The swinging Sinatra group for the Democrats is countered by the folkier support among actors for the Republican candidate, Ronald Reagan. When Reagan appeared at home on the range of his Malibu Ranch for a 12-station telecast last week, he was accompanied by such homespun types as Walter Brennan, Buddy Ebsen, George Chandler—once grandpa on
"Lassie"—and Andy Devine.

This autumn's outburst of political activity by actors is the greatest ever seen for a state campaign. The reason is both ideological and personal; aside from their political feelings, many actors feel strongly about whether one of their profession is or is not fit for high office.

Phenomenon of Era

The use of actors as political campaigners is a phenomenon of the radio-television era. Before 1932 the appearance of performers with candidates was rare outside of New York City.

Al Jolson campaigned for Warren G. Harding in 1920.

Franklin D. Roosevelt sparked the real beginnings of political activities for actors.
They admired his sympathy for the common man, his use of stars for "March of Dimes" campaigns, his own actor-like talent with his fireside chats.

The war gave actors more awareness of their public responsibilities as they were called upon to entertain troops and support war bond drives and other causes. But some stars backed causes that proved to be unpopular in the postwar period.

The McCarthy era demonstrated that political activity could damage an actor's career. Such stars as John Garfield, Judy Holliday, Edward G. Robinson and Jose Ferrer found they could not make movies unless they expiated for alleged leftist connections.

Reprimand Fear

The fear of reprimand brought a 10-year decline in political activity in Hollywood.
Many of the town's leading Republicans—Walt Disney, George Murphy, Dick Powell,

John Wayne, Jeanette MacDonald, etc.—gave vocal support to President Dwight D. Eisenhower, and Robert Montgomery became his television adviser.
But the liberal wing was quiescent during the 1950s.

The youthful appeal of John F. Kennedy renewed the political give-and-take in Hollywood.
He was the most show-wise of presidents, his father having been head of film companies.

The 1960 campaign revived liberal activity in opposition to the well-organized conservatives. The battle reaches a climax in the coming fortnight as stars argue before millions of Californians as to whether Ronny or Pat can do the better job

Whitesboro Pilot Among 43 Killed In Oriskany Fire

WHITESBORO, N.Y. (AP)—A Navy helicopter pilot, who had been married less than a year and whose brother is in the Army, is among 43 who died in the fire aboard the carrier Oriskany, off the Viet Nam coast.

He was Lt. (j.g.) Daniel O.
Kern, 23, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Kern said they learned Wednesday night of his death.

Kern was born in nearby Utica. He was a 1961 graduate of Whitesboro Central High School, where he was active on the football and wrestling teams.

The young flier was a 1965 graduate of the Academy of Aeronautics on Long Island, where he was on the dean's list for three years and was president of the honor society.

He was appointed a Naval Air Cadet in 1964 and was trained at Pensacola, Fla., where he was graduated as cadet regimental commander.
Kern was commissioned as an ensign in November 1965 and assigned to a Navy airfield in California.

While there, he married the former Miss Elizabeth Stanley, who now lives in Whitesboro.
Kern also leaves a brother, Pvt.
Edward Kern, serving with the Army Engineers, and a sister, Margaret.

In 1877, Giovanni Virginio
Schiaparelli, of the Milan Observatory, reported seeing an astonishing system of lines criss-crossing Mars. He identified them as grooves, or canals, which was misleadingly translated as "canals."

Lesson Today, Bid and Play

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Today's column is of the scatter-gun type. It concerns both bidding and play. South felt that his hand was too strong for a stop below game after his partner's opening club and two no-trump rebid.

He couldn't bid a mere three hearts. That rebid of his own suit would not be a force. A three no-trump or a four heart call would commit the hand and South had no sure way to know which of those two contracts would be better.

His three club bid was what is usually called an inferential force. In general, when your partner bids two no-trump any bid by you in a suit you have not mentioned previously is a one-round force.

North's first thought was to go to three no-trump, but he had nothing in diamonds and did have two top honors in hearts, so he returned to three hearts.

This solved South's problem about which game to bid.
East won the spade lead with the ace. He noted that his partner's spade lead was surely a singleton. Most players would have immediately led a second spade and given their partner a ruff but East saw no reason to be hasty.

It looked as if the spade ruff would leave his partner with no satisfactory card to return and that his only chance to beat the hand would be to find West with the ace of diamonds.

This might cost an over-trick but East wanted a plus score, not a loss of game and rubber.
He led his queen of diamonds.
West's ace took care of South's king. A diamond return put East back on the lead with the jack and a spade ruff became the setting trick.

Consumer Price Revolts Have Hard Political Implications

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — The consumer revolts against high food prices carry significant political implications. And no one understands this better than the politicians themselves.

The recently concluded 89th Congress gave strong support to proconsumer legislation such as auto safety and "truth-in-packaging," particularly when members had to go on the record. The developments of the past two weeks seem certain to spur more proconsumer activity in the next session.

Movement Spreads
Since a group of Denver housewives decided two weeks ago to boycott area supermarkets and demand an end to such things as trading stamps and contests which they blame for higher prices, the movement has spread to other cities in almost all parts of the country.

The food stores say their profits actually are going down and that contests are a necessary part of free enterprise to enable them to compete effectively.

Oriskany Named After Battle in Revolutionary

ORISKANY, N.Y. (AP)—The aircraft carrier Oriskany, where a fire broke out Wednesday that took 43 lives, is named after a Revolutionary War battle called "Bloody Oriskany" that took place at this central New York State community.

On Aug. 6, 1777, a mixed force of British and Indian troops were routed by patriots, who recovered from an ambush. Tradition also has it that, at Fort Stanwix, on the Oriskany battlefield, the stars and stripes were flown for the first time in the face of an enemy.

The American victory contributed to a further defeat of the British at the crucial Battle of Saratoga and also thwarted the invasion of western New York and the Mohawk Valley.

day, said farmers, processors and retailers all are getting a share of higher food prices. And it noted that growing consumer resistance might induce retailers to "intensify price competition and curtail the promotional competition which has substantially raised retail distribution costs over the past decade."

Already a few politicians are hastening to identify themselves with the consumer revolts, although in some cases it may be a matter of political survival for incumbents under fire because of rising prices.

Urges Study
In Denver, for example, Rep. Roy H. McVicker, a freshman Democrat in a close re-election scrap, was one of the first to urge the government to study the situation that prompted the housewives to revolt.

Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., who heads a special House group looking into consumer representation in the federal government, regards the boycotts as a significant boost to his investigation.

Rosenthal hopes his investigation plus the publicity from the consumer revolts might bring a change in the administration's opposition to his proposal to bring elements of 33 existing federal agencies together in a cabinet-level department of consumers.

So far, the idea has gotten lots of encouragement from consumer groups, women's organizations and labor — but little from the Johnson administration.

Might Hurt Consumer
In fact, administration spokesmen told Rosenthal's group last summer the proposal might actually hurt consumers by separating from related agencies such units as the Food and Drug Administration, the division of prices and cost in the Bureau of Labor Statistics and consumer-related segments of the Bureau of Standards.

They also said the plan for the new department to represent the consumer interest in proceedings before federal agencies raised serious legal conflicts.

If the administration sticks to its guns, it may well find a consumer-conscious Congress staging a revolt of its own and moving ahead to create the new agency.

Charge Upstate Salt Firm in Price-Fix

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The Cayuga Rock Salt Co. of the Tompkins County community of Myers, N.Y., is among major rock salt producers charged by the New Jersey Highway Authority and eight municipalities in a price-fixing suit.

In a triple damage suit filed in U.S. District Court Wednesday, the complainants said four producers and seven distributors forced state, municipal and private buyers to "pay high, arbitrary and non-competitive prices" by issuing identical bids.

State and local governments use rock salt to melt snow and ice on roads and highways in wintertime.

Progress Noted On 2 Rec Areas

Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Ulster County said today definite progress is being made by the State on the two major recreation areas which have been slated for the county, the proposed Wittenberg State Park and the Bristol Recreation Area.

Wilson said he has been assured by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and by officials of the State Conservation Department that development planning funds for both of these major projects will be included in the next State budget.

According to the Assemblyman, final negotiations for property needed for the Wittenberg State Park are now being completed by the State, and that all of the necessary acquisition should be accomplished by the end of the year. Wilson said once these negotiations are made the State Conservation Department will be able to proceed with the actual planning of the 600 acre recreational facility. Assemblyman Wilson noted that when Gov. Rockefeller spoke in the county last month he had pledged that he would include the funds needed for the planning of the State park in his next executive budget. The Assemblyman added, however, the funds for the actual construction of the park would, for the most part, have to be drawn from the proposed 200-million-dollar Recreational Development

Bond Issue, which will be Proposition One on the ballot this November.

Concerning the second major State facility for Ulster County, the Bristol Recreation Area in the Town of Saugerties, Assemblyman Wilson said he is most hopeful that actual construction work will be started on this long-awaited project by next year. Wilson said the land needed for the area is now completely in the hands of the State, and that many of the preliminary plans have either been completed, or at least begun. The Assemblyman said the Division of Motor Boats in the State Conservation Department is currently working on the design for a boat launching site, as well as on the main access road for the local recreational facility. Wilson added that a series of aerial photographs of the entire area have been completed and evaluated, and that the preliminary plans from the beach, parking area, picnic area, and bath houses have been started. It was pointed out by the Assemblyman, however, that while planning funds will be requested in next year's State budget for the Bristol Recreation Area, actual construction funds for the project will also be largely dependent upon the outcome of Proposition One.

Owego Man Dies

JOHNSON CITY, N.Y. (AP)—Floyd M. Ford, 77, of Owego, died Tuesday in a hospital here of burns suffered Oct. 8 when gasoline with which he was fueling a farm tractor ignited.

For The Birds

MIO, Mich. (AP) — About 250 acres of the Huron National Forest went up in smoke — all because of a little bird.

The State Conservation Department and U.S. Forest Service burned the acreage near Mio Wednesday to provide a nesting ground for Kirtland's warbler.

The warbler is a rare bird that migrates to the Bahama Islands from the forests in Oscoda County, where it summers and nests in low, new growth of jackpine.

Two years ago, only about 1,000 of the warblers summered here, but the total appears higher now that modern fire-control methods have allowed the burning of forests to provide nesting grounds, conservation men said.

Name Judges For Halloween Window Painting

Judges were announced today for the Halloween window painting contest sponsored by Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association.

The panel which will evaluate a total of 116 windows in the uptown business district and select winners in three categories consists of Mrs. Burton S. Davis, secretary of Burgevin, Inc., florists, and president of the Ulster Garden Club; Warren Simmons, advertising director of The Kingston Daily Freeman; and Harry M. Thayer, president of W.C.C. Radio, Inc., which operates Radio Stations WGHQ in Kingston and WVOX, New Rochelle.

Working in groups of two, three or four, a total of 223 students are participating in this year's contest. Windows are to be completed by 5 p. m. Friday. Winners will be selected in three categories: elementary, junior high and high school.

The annual event is planned with the cooperation of Mrs. Althea Odell, art department head for Kingston City Schools. Consolidated, and is open to students in Grades 6 through 12 in public and parochial schools in the area.

Francis H. Kolts, president of the Uptown Business Men's Association, has invited the public to view the windows during this weekend.

Warns Settlement

compulsory sanctions on Rhodesia.

Initial signals from Salisbury suggest the Smith regime is highly unlikely to accept Wilson's outlined settlement, which envisages an African takeover of power no earlier than the 1970s. But there seems to be a possibility Smith may attempt to stage something of a filibuster in order to stave off a decisive confrontation for a while.

Wilson had been asked in the interview.

"Are you and Mr. Ian Smith of Rhodesia, as some countries suggested in the United Nations last week, doing a deal that would abandon the principles of settlement defined by successive British governments?"

Fearing such a white man's deal, African and Asian countries were overwhelming support in the world body for a resolution insisting that final power in Rhodesia be transferred to the four million Africans, not to the 225,000 whites.

Wilson replied:

"The answer is no. A flat and decisive no. Our predecessors, the Conservatives, insisted that independence in Rhodesia could only be granted by Britain—and there is no legal independence for Rhodesia which is not granted by Britain—on the basis of guaranteed and unimpeded progress to majority rule as is provided by the 1961 constitution of their country and only on a basis that is clearly shown to be acceptable to the people of Rhodesia as a whole."

Standing by Principles

"We have spelled out those two principles and added to them other important requirements with the agreement of all parties in the House of Commons."

"We are standing by them in the current discussions. I do not believe that Britain could in honor accept any settlement which went back on them—and indeed the communiqué of the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference held in London last month set out the basis on which we intended to proceed and the dire consequences which would follow if agreement could not be reached on these terms."

Price Protest

Letter, leader of an unnamed rebel brigade, had this to say: "We got one independent store owner to mark down prices on items we thought were too high. He followed two of us around the store and reduced prices we pointed out. A can of coffee was marked down from $1.19 to 89 cents. It can be done."

"I don't believe the stores can afford to drop their prices," pleaded Ted Walker, executive director of the Ozark Empire Grocers Association. "The housewife wants to be recognized, but food is taking a lower proportion of her income than five years ago."

Meanwhile, in Albuquerque, N.M., the "Housewives Encouraging Lower Prices" (HELP) announced the lifting of a store boycott, saying they had made their point.

A HELP spokesman said the girls called it off after driving the price of a pound of bacon down from 85 cents to 69 cents, a loaf of bread from 31 cents to 29 cents, half a gallon of milk from 56 cents to 49 cents.

Three Are Killed As Train Hits Car

MAYVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — Two men and a woman were killed today when an automobile was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train in this southwestern New York village, police said.

They were: Bradley Shephard, 86, his wife, Florence, 82 and Clarence Parker, 82, all of Mayville.

Police Chief Harold Land said Bradley had stopped his car at the grade crossing and then drove into the path of the train, apparently unaware it was approaching. It was foggy at the time, Land said.

The Shephards lived on Elm Flats Road. Parker's home was on Elmwood Road.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rally resumed with trading fairly active early this afternoon as stocks were up for the fourth straight session this week.

Strength in chemicals, oils, nonferrous metals and assorted industrials took over as the steels, while higher on balance, withdrew from the strong, pace-making role of Wednesday. Analysts saw the news background as generally favorable and the technical indicators were encouraging, too, as the Dow Jones industrial average made further progress through the "sticky" area above the 800 level.

At noon the Dow industrials were up 7.07 at 808.18.

Profits were taken by traders in some recent gainers, notably airlines. Aerospace defense stocks also were lower on balance.

Drugs and building materials made upside progress.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.6 at 290.8 with industrials up 2.3, rails up .4 and utilities up .4.

Du Pont recouped almost all of the 34-point loss it took Wednesday, giving a good boost to the averages.

Gains of a point or better were made also by Goodrich, American Smelting, Phelps Dodge, Homestake, International Nickel, Eastman Kodak, Standard Oil of Indiana, U.S. Gypsum and Schering.

In the glamor group, IBM rose more than 2 but Xerox sank a couple of points. General Dynamics also was weak, losing a couple of points as some large blocks were traded.

Chrysler was unchanged following its earnings report. Prices were mostly higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Mayor Signs

reaction facilities," and the Cornell Fire Station is "merely a ghost house."

Mayor Garraghan noted that the city has more parks than Newburgh and Poughkeepsie combined and is due to get a major one at Kingston Point with substantial federal aid, and he felt the library should receive support from the consolidated school district.

On the point of holding the hearing at 10 a. m., he noted that few turn out to review night hearings on the steadily increasing school budget nor the general budget prepared by the Board of Supervisors. City Clerk Lyle noted that it had long been a custom to hold such city hearings as this one on pay boosts in the mornings.

Future Consideration

In dealing with the mayor's salary, the mayor noted none was included for him and added, "Thank God I don't need it," but he felt that mayors of the future should be considered. He emphasized the increased duties of city officials and cited the many committee meetings of aldermen. He felt that the city had an efficient fire department with effective assistance from volunteers.

In speaking of the future he said, "We have lots of things planned for next year." The city ultimately, he said, will gain two new fire stations, one of them eliminating that on congested Fair Street.

Conducting city government, he said, was "getting to be a big operation." Soon, he added, Kingston will be "one of the best cities of the state, but politics will have to go out the window."

Corporation Counsel Vernon Murphy noted that the pay boosts were not retroactive and were not to become effective until Jan. 1.

Woods, in his letter, felt that a public hearing on such proposals should be held before action by the Common Council. "It would seem to me more logical to listen to public opinion and then vote on the measure," he wrote.

Kaplan Completes Course

Army Private Stanley R. Kaplan, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kaplan, 1 Clifford Street, Ellenville, completed an eight-week administration course at Ft. Dix, N. J., Oct. 14.

He was trained in the preparation of military records and forms. Instruction was also given in fundamentals of the Army filing system, typing and operation of office machines.

Ball and Chained

STOCKBRIDGE, Mich. (AP) — Mrs. Robert Camp of Stockbridge, Mich., borrowed a leg iron with ball and chain from an Ingham County sheriff's officer who had kept it as a memento of the old days.

Mrs. Camp took the device home, planning to use it as part of a costume at the annual Stockbridge Halloween party. Her daughter, Faye, 16, a high school sophomore, tried on the 25-pound leg iron.

She was the first to discover that the key to the ratchet had been forgotten. She was trapped for two hours until a deputy was available to drive about 20 miles with the key.

Drive Cost 87 Cents

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — When Washington State Rep. Helmut Juelling turned in his campaign expenses for the September primary he listed a total of 87 cents.

Juelling of Tacoma said he spent that for a can of paint to change the number of his left-over 1964 campaign signs from District 29 to 28. The number was changed by a legislative redistricting law.

This week the Republican State Central Committee made its financial allotments to legislative candidates for the general election. The committee sent Juelling a check for $1, along with the instructions: "Anything you don't spend, please return."

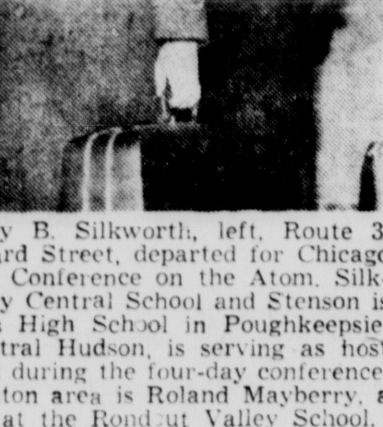

Has 26 Children

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sylvester Primous, 54, became a father Wednesday for the 26th time.

His second wife, Irene, gave birth in Phoenix, Ariz., to a boy weighing 7 pounds, 4 ounces. Primous and his first wife, whom he divorced, had 10 children.

The new baby brings to 15 the number of his children living at home.

"This is the last," Primous said.

Johnson Sums

living standards, to build a region of security and progress and to seek peaceful reconciliation—are why the U.S. soldiers are in Viet Nam, Johnson said.

Much Progress Noted

"And when I looked into their faces at Camh Ran Bay, I knew that what we had done in Manila was for real," he said.

The President stated that the allied leaders saw much progress so far in both military and nation-building efforts in South Viet Nam.

And in extending their peace bid to North Viet Nam, the President declared that none of the allies had insisted on "the unconditional surrender of the forces opposing us or on the terms which those forces could reasonably find dishonorable."

Johnson spoke particularly of the allies' declaration of willingness to pull their troops out of South Viet Nam within six months—"and perhaps even sooner" after peace conditions are met.

Take Short Breather

— Taking a 24-hour treetreat after 10 strenuous days and nights in five countries, President and Mrs. Johnson relaxed and rested today beside the blue waters of the Gulf of Siam.

The Johnsons are spending the night in a luxurious government guest house in this fishing and resort village 68 miles southeast of Bangkok before starting their official visit Friday afternoon to the country many believe is next on the Communist schedule for Asian conquest.

Johnson, the first U.S. president to visit Thailand, and his wife landed in a drizzle at Sattahip Air Base 40 miles from Bangkok at 1:07 p.m. (2:07 a.m. EDT) following a 24-hour flight from Manila.

Welcomed By Premier

As four Thai fighter planes flew high over the field, the President's party transferred immediately to helicopters for the short flight to Bang Saen. Thai Premier Thanom Kittikachorn greeted the Johnsons at Sattahip and accompanied them to the resort. He uses the guest house the Johnsons are occupying as his summer home.

In the village, policemen in jeeps, motorcycles and even Cadillac limousines roared through the streets and guards were at all intersections. Most residents accustomed to similar arrangements for visiting dignitaries, reacted calmly to Johnson's arrival.

Johnson told newsmen during the flight from Manila his health was fine, although he said he has been sleeping only three to four hours a night because of his crowded schedule.

To Bangkok Friday

The President said that on his quick trip to Camh Ran Bay in Viet Nam Wednesday, he talked with each of the U. S. corps and area commanders and felt that a two-minute report in person was more informative than a 3,000-word cable.

Early Friday afternoon the presidential party will helicopter to Bangkok, a sprawling metropolis of 2 million people, to resume the crowded round of public appearances until they depart for Malaysia Sunday morning.

Johnson left Manila more than an hour behind schedule, but he had no precise appointments and the day had been set aside for as much relaxation as possible.

With the President were U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and other top aides.

After he arrives in Bangkok, the President will see some of the 27,000 U.S. troops based in Thailand though his schedule so far does not include visits to any of the five Thai air bases from which American pilots fly against North Viet Nam.

Rush Flood Aid

ROME (AP) — The Italian government rushed aid today to southwestern Italy after destructive winds, rain and floods there Wednesday. Six persons were known dead and five are missing.

A Varied Gift of Stocks
Well Worth Holding

Q "I've been given 100 shares First Charter Financial, 50 Carlisle, and 50 Lehman Corp. Are these good, bad or indifferent? I've never before owned stocks."

A) You have received a substantial gift of promising issues, all worth holding.

First Charter shares are temporarily depressed by the impact of tight money on savings & loan institutions. Its long-term prospects are strengthened by the wide geographical spread of its mortgage loans and the efficiency it maintains in its operations.

Lehman is a leading closed-end investment company. Through its well-diversified portfolio of common stocks, you will share the benefits of potential growth in many more situations than you could acquire for yourself.

Carlisle Corp. has reported better than a 100 per cent boost in earnings for the first half of 1966 — up to $2.58 a share from $1.26 in 1965. The uptrend started in 1961 with dividends following suit. Sales of rubber and plastic products and special kinds of wire are well distributed. Electronics and space development account for 35 per cent; the automotive industry, 24 per cent; the recreation market 23 per cent and the balanced is scattered. Carlisle is an interesting speculation to be retained for its maximum potential.

"I bought H. I. Siegel at 30 before the big drop. Does it still show promise? Should I buy more?"

C. K.

A) Although Siegel's third fiscal quarter, ended July 31, slowed a bit, there was a small year-to-year gain and no break in the steady uptrend of earnings going back to 1958. Share net reported for 9 months was up 16 per cent. Reliable estimates of around $2.50 for the full year compare with earnings of $2.07 in 1965.

Aggressive promotion of the expanding youth market is back of Siegel's growth rate and higher sales with wider profit margins are projected well into fiscal 1967. Hold shares for recovery and diversify with new money; or consider a promising retailer like Allied Stores or Kresge.

Continue Protest Of Food Prices At Upstate Marts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"If we give up now, we're sunk," says one of the housewives who planned boycotts of supermarkets in Schenectady and South Glens Falls.

Mrs. Ralph Mann, 26, commented Wednesday while picking a South Glens Falls supermarket with other women to protest high food prices.

Dozen Picket

Mrs. Ann Toland, 27, surveyed the dozen other women picketing with her as she pushed a 10-month-old son in a perambulator and added:

"We're going to keep it up until something happens. Our pocketbooks built this building and the prices are too high."

She said she was protesting the high cost of meat, butter and frozen foods.

Mrs. Toland said she felt the pinch particularly because she was receiving welfare money. She is a General Electric employee out of work because of a strike.

Takes Action

Another Schenectady marcher, Mrs. Garner Walsh of Rexford, who said her husband teaches education at the State University of Albany, commented:

"It's something I can do instead of just complaining. I think most people around here feel this way, but they're just conservative and don't want to be involved."

The marchers — sometimes outnumbered by newsmen — picketed throughout the afternoon, while ignoring stares from store employees and heckling from passing motorists.

Only Civilian Aboard

Gives Eyewitness Account of Fire Aboard Oriskany

EDITOR'S NOTE — Freelance photographer James H. Pickereil, 30, of Wilmington, Ohio, was the only civilian aboard the U.S. aircraft carrier Oriskany Wednesday morning when fire broke out, taking the lives of 43 men. Here is Pickereil's eyewitness report.

By JAMES PICKEREIL
Written for The Associated Press

ABOARD THE ORISKANY, South China Sea (delayed) (AP) — Until flames belched from the flight deck of this 42,000-ton carrier just after dawn Wednesday, we thought there was nothing to worry about.

Only a few wisps of smoke had appeared after a hollow explosion two decks below us. The men were moving with no great rush to man the fire hoses; there had been similar flash fires before.

This Was Worse

But the great belch of flame was a startling indication that this was worse, much worse, than anything else previously aboard the huge carrier. Within minutes we knew just how bad.

A locker room containing 600 magnesium flares had somehow exploded as sailors were replacing some of them. The explosion blocked off the main exit from a labyrinth of corridors leading from "officers' country," the Navy term for officers' quarters.

There were mostly pilots sleeping in this forward part of the great carrier. Either the initial explosion was not loud enough to alert them to danger, or the smoke blocked them in the corridors, or there were not enough exits. Within the hour, 43 men were dead from suffocation, all but nine of them pilots. They were pilots who had been daily risking their lives flying jet planes against targets in North Viet Nam.

The Oriskany was prowling on "Yankee Station" in the Gulf of Tonkin with two other U.S. carriers, launching strikes against North Viet Nam, when the disaster hit.

Was on Flight Deck

I was on the flight deck taking pictures of the activity when the muffled sound of an explosion came from two decks below. As the flames belched upwards and the immensity of the danger was realized, the general quarters alarm was rung, sending the crew to battle stations.

Men poured out onto the deck, some in shorts, others in pajamas.

Thirty-four tons of bombs, mainly 500 pounders, were stacked just 100 yards from where the flare locker was exploding. Water was poured into the bomb stacks.

An officer explained: "The manual says that you have to wet down a bomb load within three minutes of the start of a fire, otherwise they will be endangered. The whole lot could blow up and take everyone with it."

They managed to wet the bombs down on time on the Oriskany. Sailors began rolling 500-pound explosives off the deck and into the ocean.

College Officials Visit UCCC Here

To better portray their institutions, representatives of public and private colleges currently are visiting Ulster County Community College.

Their goal is to better interpret their institutions to Dean of Students Donald Crout so he can counsel UCCC students desiring to transfer to these four-year colleges and universities. In addition, these representatives have counseled individual UCCC students interested in transferring.

"I feel these visitations are highly important," said Dean Crout, "because they give us a first hand knowledge of these colleges and universities we couldn't obtain in any other way."

It also is indicative of the high regard these institutions have of transfer students from Ulster County Community College.

Representatives already have visited UCCC from the State University Colleges at Brockport, Albany, Buffalo, Plattsburgh, Fredonia the State University Center at Stony Brook, Alfred University, Ithaca College and the Fashion Institute of Technology.

"This is just the beginning," said Dean Crout, for in the coming weeks we expect to meet with representatives of many more colleges and universities to learn more details of their offerings and the opportunities our students have to transfer to them.

The dean said there are untold opportunities for UCCC students to transfer to other colleges and universities to obtain baccalaureate degrees. "But through these meetings with representatives of these institutions," he said, "we are able to determine which are the best colleges and universities for our students to transfer to so they can best pursue their individual educational goals."

Among the topics these representatives have discussed with Dean Crout are curricula available at their institutions, transfer of specific course credit, criteria used in determining the acceptability of a transfer candidate including test scores and averages achieved at the community college, the time schedule for making transfer application procedures, and campus life details at the other colleges and universities.

ASHTRAYS IN DOCTOR'S OFFICE NOT FOR CIGARS

Dear Mrs. Post: Many people, both men and women, come into the waiting room of our local doctor, and immediately "light up"—cigar or cigarette—with no consideration shown for those who do not smoke. The aroma and smoke can sicken you enough to have to leave the room, thereby losing your turn. Do you agree that this is very inconsiderate behavior?

—A.K.

Dear A. K.: Most doctors provide ash trays in their waiting rooms, indicating that smoking is permitted. Cigarette smoking, that is, no man should light a cigar without asking permission, especially in a doctor's office where people are probably not feeling well to start with. If cigarette smoke is especially obnoxious to you, ask the nurse if you may open a window and sit near it, or move as far as possible from the offending smoker. Because of the nervousness of most patients, habitual smokers feel more relaxed if they can "light up" while they wait.

Who Provides the Hope Chest?

Dear Mrs. Post: My youngest daughter is approaching her sixteenth birthday. I have been brought up to believe that on this occasion the mother and father of the girl buy her a cedar hope chest. My older daughter says I'm wrong. In fact, her boy friend (now her husband), bought hers when she was eighteen.

—E.A.H.

Dear E.A.H.: Your daughter is very lucky—many parents nowadays have forgotten all about the tradition of a hope chest. I'm all for it; it provides a useful piece of furniture to keep always, as well as an incentive to make, or acquire, lovely things for a trousseau. And you are right—the parents of the girl provide the chest, not the fiancé or husband.

Extra Forks Are Placed on Left

Dear Mrs. Post: When serving layer cake, pie or a salad with rolls already buttered and no knife necessary, where is the fork placed—on the right or left of the plate?

—Bernice

Dear Bernice: The only fork ever placed to the right of the plate is the seafood, or oyster, fork. Therefore, the dessert fork, regardless of whether or not a spoon or knife is also served, is always on the left.

So you're planning to give a shower? A new booklet by Elizabeth L. Post tells you everything you need to know—for a bridal shower, a welcome party for a new neighbor, the local minister or anyone else. To get your copy, send twenty-five cents in coin to cover booklet and shipping expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of this paper.

Kingston Leaders Attend Spirited October Meeting

The Kingston Neighborhood Association of Girl Scout Adults meeting at Lake Katrine on Thursday, Oct. 20, was invaded by the Halloween spirit as the customary green uniforms gave way to a wide variety of goblins, witches and other strange characters. Chairman of the meeting was Charlie Chaplin, complete with cane, derby hat and tiny mustache.

A short business meeting was held during which council delegates from the neighborhood were named for the coming year. Also on the agenda was a discussion about the annual Neighborhood Girl Scout show. A tentative date was set for mid-April. Following the discussion period a blonde witch in a fetching lace dress led the group in some songs with motions which were very entertaining. A stylish lady in an original sack dress showed slides of the visit to Camp Edith Macy by a group of area Leaders on the camp's 40th anniversary in May. Slides of the recent Cadette Craft day in New Paltz were also shown and were of interest to the leaders. There was a refreshing brew stirred by a vampire with brilliant purple hair, and poured by Robin Hood. A French apache dancer with real golden hair served cake and cookies. The Sheriff and Batman gave valuable assistance to the Little Dutch Girl at cleanup time. There was also an ideas exchange table of crafts projects from common household items, for use as party favors, Christenings. Item came from dec

Over 200 to Attend Career Conference Here Nov. 4, 5, 6

The Senior Girl Scout Career Conference scheduled for Nov. 4, 5 and 6 in Kingston shows every indication of being a highly successful event. To date there are more than 200 reservations from Senior Girl Scouts in New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Connecticut area.

The basic idea behind the conference is to provide assistance in planning careers through advice of vocational counselors, supplying literature in particular fields of interest, and information about special training or education which must be planned ahead for a successful career. There will be panel discussions, workshops and also a time for fun.

Speakers at the workshops will give the girls an introduction to the many careers available and will discuss the occupation's history and future importance; requirements for entrance into and advancement in the field; some general requirements for success; average earning power now and in the future; special problems, advantages and disadvantages in the chosen field and sources of further information. Included will be question and answer period. Adults who attend the conference may participate as observers in any of the workshops or events but there will be a special treat in store for them. Miss Cynthia Hibberd, program adviser from Region II, Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., has agreed to meet with adults for two special sessions to discuss matters of special concern to Senior Advisers, such as planning (and pitfalls) of a Senior Scout Conference, Special Events for Seniors, and Senior Planning Boards and their duties.

Fun time will include a welcome program Friday evening, with movies and singing on the entertainment list; a walking tour of the stockade area on Saturday afternoon; a leader versus girls basketball game on Saturday night, and the overall pleasure of a weekend with a congenial group of friends and new acquaintances.

The Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc. is one of the participating member agencies the Ulster County Community Chest.

mas decorations. Items came from many of the leaders and were set up by a 1945 vintage Girl Scout, with a sleeve full of merit badges assisted by a civilian of uncertain vintage. Other costumes included a farmer in his undershirt, Little Bo Peep, an 1890 bathing costume and even some 1966 style Girl Scout Leaders, and committee members.

The Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, Inc. is a member agency of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Work by Highland Sculptor Is Accepted

Sculptor Nadas Geo of Highland, whose works have been exhibited at the East Hampton Gallery in New York, University of Oregon, the 12th Avenue Gallery, Oregon, Haldis Arts Ltd., in Poughkeepsie and in New Canaan, Conn., received word from the National Association of Women Artists, Inc., New York, that she was elected to membership by their jury in the sculpture category.

Along with membership in the association, Geo was invited to exhibit in the organization's 1967 Annual usually held at the National Academy Galleries on Fifth Avenue in New York. Geo plans to exhibit her winning sculptures, "Interaction" which she states are designed to actively involve the persons observing them.

Geo's sculptures are concrete and iron. Several recurring themes are visible: the double ring, the dance group, the leader, the open frame, the blind window, the spiral and the cave. Since a set can be assembled indoors or outdoors at any height convenient for the viewer and since each form can be positioned many ways, the possible compositions with a set is in practice unlimited. By actually moving and positioning differently one or more forms the viewer contributes the composition thus interacting with the sculpture as a whole in a creative way.

Geo studied at the Podolini School of Fine Arts in Budapest, Hungary, and at the University of Oregon.

SIDELINE VIEWS

By ED PALLADINO

When pepsodent Paul Dietzel headed south just before the start of 1966 spring football practice at West Point, the Army brass didn't have to look far to find a new varsity grid coach at the Academy. They just promoted plebe coach Tom Cahill to the job.

With four victories in five starts and with a squad that is gaining momentum prior to the big match with Navy the end of next month, the choice of Cahill has to be considered one of the smartest moves ever made on the Plains overlooking the beautiful Hudson River.

• Not a Newcomer

Cahill has been at West Point since 1959 when he became plebe (freshman) coach. In the ensuing seven years he led the Plebes to 27 wins in 45 games and his 1965 team won six of seven.

One can tell in talking to the Army coach that he is all football from start to finish. He has moulded an exciting club, one that not only plays defense but one that does things on offense, unlike the drab teams of the past few years.

The first start, which has seen the Cadets lose only to Notre Dame after its first six games, gives promise of the best season since '63, when Army was 7-3. However, that year finished on a sad note because Navy was the winner of "The Game."

• Praises the Irish

In discussing Notre Dame, Cahill had nothing but glowing reports on what might be the best club ever to represent the South Bend school. He readily admits that coach Ara Parseghian mercifully left the score down or it would have been much worse than 35-0.

Of course, the Navy game is always on the minds of coaches at both the Academies. Cahill, however, is thinking first of this Saturday's trip to Tennessee, of the Nov. 5 home game with George Washington and the contest the following week at California.

• Was Niagara Star

Cahill began his athletic career at Fayetteville High School near Syracuse. From there he went to Niagara University where he played end on the football team, guard in basketball and first base in baseball. Of course, the Purple Eagles no longer play football.

After graduating from Niagara in 1942, he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Infantry and spent 28 months in the South Pacific, moving from New Guinea to the Philippines and then to Japan. By the end of the war, he was a Captain.

Cahill began his coaching career in 1947 at Manlius School as an assistant. He took over the head job in 1949 and in eight years, his teams won 56 while losing eight and tying two.

His last position before coming to West Point was at New Jersey's Riverdell Regional High School. While there, his clubs compiled a record of nine wins and a tie in 16 starts.

• Is 26th Coach

When Army named Cahill as the head coach for this year, he became the 26th to hold the position. With five wins under his belt in only one game better than half a season, he has already won just under the one fourth total of 21 it took Dietzel four years to accumulate.

The Cadets will be the underdogs when they play a powerful Tennessee club this Saturday in Memphis. This doesn't phase Cahill at all. He has gained respect of his players, has seen them improve game by game and figures to give the Volunteers quite a tussle.

Incidentally, the Army coach has a son, Thomas E., who plays quarterback for the Highland Falls club of the Orange County League. This success on the gridiron seems to run in the Cahill ranks.

Six Are Selected For Grid Hall

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Helms Athletic Foundation has named six present or former coaches and eight former players to its college football Hall of Fame.

Coaches named Wednesday are Bill Murray of Duke University; Bud Wilkinson, former Oklahoma mentor; David Nelson, former Hillsdale, Maine and Delaware coach; Rip Engel, who retired last year from Penn State; Jason Christianson, coach at Concordia, Moorhead, Minn., since 1941, and Dwight Beede, coach at Youngstown since 1938.

Former players are Tennessee quarterback Bobby Dodd; California halfback Vic Bottari; Santa Clara halfback Nello Falaschi; Bucknell halfback Clark Hinkle; Texas Tech center E.J. Holub; Utah State tackle Merlin Olsen; Southern California guard Aaron Rosenberg, and Duke punter and halfback Eric Tipton.

A board of Los Angeles area sports writers make selections on the basis of outstanding performances during the athletes' careers.

Joe Zam Captures Roosevelt Feature

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Joe Zam edged favorite Sir Cingle by three-quarters of a length and won the $39,478 New York Sire Stakes trot for 2-year-olds at Roosevelt Raceway Wednesday night.

Joe Zam, a son of Worthy Acclaim, covered the mile in 2:10 3/5 under the hand of Richard Wilcox. The horse, owned by the Five Brothers Stables of Elba, N.Y., took the lead from Sir Cingle in the backstretch and held of the challenger's drive at the wire.

Joe Zam returned $7.60. Grig was third.

In harness races featured at other tracks in New York State: Saratoga Raceway — Little Guy Put ($13.20) edged Thuley H. by a nose and won the $1,500 pace in 2:07 4/5.

Batavia Downs — The $1,300 pace was won by H.B. Lind ($8.60) in a wire-to-wire victory over Way Kid in 2:05 1/5.

Vernon Downs — True Storm ($6.20) posted an easy, 4-length victory over Ricky's Pride in the $1,200 pace, timed in 2:03 3/5.

Groza Regains Field Goal Touch

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lou Groza's old shoes are making a comeback.

The trusty brogans were put on the inactive list when the Cleveland Browns started the National Football League season. Groza had a shiny new pair with a built-up sole and elevated heel.

He broke them in carefully during summer training, then opened the season with three-for-three against Green Bay and Washington.

But the 42-year-old Groza, who was kicking extra points and field goals when many of today's NFL players were waiting for the first day of kindergarten, hit a slump.

He missed six straight field goal attempts. One 13-yarder hit an upright. It was his worst slump in 20 years.

"When a fellow is my age it's only natural that people would begin to wonder after six misses," said Groza, who has scored more points than anyone in the NFL and sets a record with every extra point and field goal.

Groza kicked short against St. Louis, wide against New York and Pittsburgh blocked one. The old shoes were reactivated for the Dallas Cowboys last Sunday.

"I just went back to fundamentals," said Groza. "I thought I might as well go back to my old shoes, too. I concentrated on following through on the football."

Groza came out of the slump before a record home crowd of 84,721. Most of them had read about his six misses.

He booted a 39-yarder, came back for a 30 yard shot and clinched it with a 47 yard effort. The crowd roared its approval. The Browns slapped him on the back.

His field goals were the margin in a 30-21 victory over the Cowboys. The win kept the Browns alive in the Eastern Conference race.

Chief's Lineman Wins Award

By MIKE RATHER

NEW YORK (AP) — It was the night before Kansas City's game against Denver and Buck Buchanan, the Chiefs' 6-foot-7, 287-pound defensive tackle, was at dinner with the rest of the club.

He had devoured his steak, gobbled up the leftovers passed on by several of his smaller teammates and started on dessert when another steak was pushed in front of him.

"I would like to take a go at it," he said with a smile. "But I'm on my desserts. I don't like to switch."

Buchanan may not like to switch, but he does like to eat — particularly the night before a game.

"The day of the game I don't eat too much," he explained. "I eat very, very little. They say a full player has to be hungry. I try to be."

Buchanan must have been starving when he took the field against the Broncos last Sunday for he completely stopped Denver's draw play while making five tackles unassisted and earning The Associated Press' Defensive Player of the Week award in the American Football League.

Buchanan was so effective, as a matter of fact, that Denver was virtually unable to run the ball, went to the air and suffered five interceptions as the Chiefs' romped to a 56-10 victory.

Buchanan's abilities, both on the ground and in the air, got him the nod for the Defensive Player of the Week award over Miami's Willie West, who intercepted three passes in a 20-13 victory over Houston, and Boston linebacker Nick Buoniconti, who stood out in the Patriots' 35-17 victory over San Diego.

N. Dakota State Widens Lead in Small "II" Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's no telling how high New Mexico Highlands will go in the Associated Press small-college poll if the Cowboys continue to ride roughshod over their opposition.

The Cowboys opened their season by trampling Hiram Scott 54-6. Then, they beat Colorado Mines 68-20, Panhandle A&M 69-13, Adams State 24-13, Ft. Lewis, Colo. 58-21 and last week Western New Mexico 73-21.

It has all resulted in a 6-0 record, a 57.7 points a game average and, for the first time this season, a place in the AP rankings.

The Cowboys took over the No. 10 spot in one of several changes after last week's games.

North Dakota State held first place in this week's balloting by a national panel of 17 sports writers and broadcasters. The Bison, 18-15 winner over North Dakota last Saturday, had 111 votes for first place and 163 points on a basis of 10 for a first-place vote, 9 for second, etc.

The setback dropped North Dakota from second to fourth place while idle San Diego State rushed up to replace the Sioux in the runner-up position.

Montana State advanced three places to third after defeating Weber State 45-36.

Arkansas State is the No. 5 team followed by Tennessee State, Middle Tennessee State, Northwestern State of Louisiana, Sul Ross State and New Mexico Highlands.

The top ten, with first place votes in parentheses and total points:

1. North Dakota St. (11)	163
2. San Diego State (2)	120
3. Montana State	83
4. North Dakota	82
5. Arkansas St. (1)	77
6. Tenn. State (1)	58
7. Middle Tenn. (1)	57
8. Northwestern, La.	59

ST. JOHN, N.B. (AP) — George Chuvale, Canada's heavyweight champion from Toronto, will meet Dave Russell of Uniondale, N.Y., in a nontitle 10-round here Nov. 1.

Bullets Topple Cincinnati Club

BALTIMORE (AP) — You'd have thought a championship was at stake.

General Manager Buddy Jeannette rushed onto the court and grasped the hand of Coach Mike Farmer after Baltimore scored a 122-116 National Basketball Association victory over the Cincinnati Royals Wednesday night. The victory snapped the Bullets' five-game losing streak.

Jeannette then accompanied the happy players to the locker room and wrote on a blackboard: "Magic number is 2."

The cryptic message didn't mean Baltimore was closing in on the NBA title. It was merely a reminder for the Bullets after winning their first game of the season: Now win the next one.

In the only other game played, the New York Knickerbockers rallied in the second half and whipped the Lakers 133-122 in Los Angeles.

Middie Coach Predicts Win

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Navy coach Bill Elias and Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian engaged in a bit of Mediterranean mirth Wednesday in a chat about the clash Saturday between their football teams.

Elias opened the conversation which was hooked to a public address system, with this salutation:

"I have writers here from Baltimore, Washington, New York, Annapolis, Beirut and Damascus."

Parseghian, who is of Armenian extract on, told Elias, who is of Lebanese ancestry, "I may be a rug maker but I'm not a fig catcher."

Trying to get serious, Elias asked his long time friend about Saturday's lineup.

The two men got serious long enough to admit that anything could happen in the game, though Navy is a 26-point underdog.

Elias based his hopes partly on the injured status of the spectacular Irish end, Jim Seymour, and a report that Notre Dame quarterback Terry Hanratty's arm is not in the best of shape after an apparent mild sprain.

But Elias flatly predicted a victory—without a trace of humor—because he said Navy was "as high" as he had seen the Middies since he'd been at the academy.

Parseghian said he never took anything for granted and added that service academies, particularly, have the spirit to pull surprises.

International Sets 140 Games

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The International Baseball League will play 140 games in 1967, seven less than in each of the last two seasons, says George Sisler, league president.

The primary reason for the reduced number of games is "to balance the schedule," Sisler added. The slate of contests for the last two seasons has represented an unbalanced schedule, he said.

The new schedule, approved Wednesday during a meeting here of league directors, will give teams more maneuverability in scheduling home doubleheaders, Clay Dennis, Buffalo general manager, said.

The directors also voted to set an April 26th opening date—four days later than last year. Labor Day or Sept. 4 will mark the close of the season.

Sisler said the opening day pairings have not been approved, but that he hoped a completed schedule would be adopted at a league meeting Nov. 27 during the minor league convention in Columbus, Ohio.

The directors voted to retain the post-season playoffs and to pool visiting clubs' shares of opening day and holiday games. The pool would be divided equally among the eight teams.

The possibility of reactivating the American Association was discussed.

League representatives also decided to propose at the Nov. 27 convention a series with the Pacific Coast League.

Fights Last Night

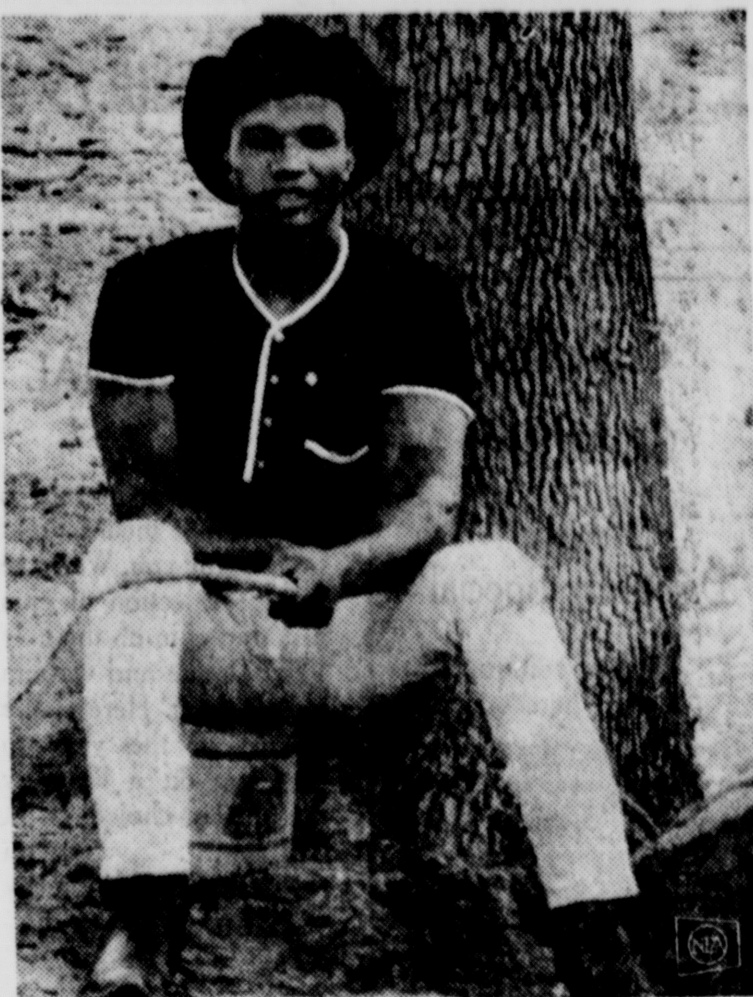

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK — Benito Ortiz, 131½, Puerto Rico, knocked out Luke Erwin, 130½, Bayonne, N.J., 2.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Jesus Pimental, 118½, Mexico, stopped Katsuo Saito, 118½, Japan, 8.

OAKLAND, Calif. — Jimmy Lester, 160, San Francisco, knocked out Luis SantaMaria, 154, Mexico, 1.

MODESTO, Calif. — Charlie Shipes, 145, Oakland, Calif., stopped Polo Carona, 147, Mexico, 7.

HOPING FOR a big catch is Cleveland Williams who will meet Cassius Clay for the heavyweight championship Nov. 14 in Houston. The "Big Cat" has been training on the ranch of his manager Hugh Benbow in Yoakum, Tex.

Boston's Babe Parilli Bounces Back as Top Offensive Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Babe (Ping-Pong) Parilli has bounced back again.

Redeeming himself for what he termed his "lousiest game," Parilli completed 13 of 22 passes for 250 yards and three touchdowns last Sunday as the Boston Patriots whipped the San Diego Chargers 35-17.

For that performance Parilli, the 26-year-old veteran of 13 pro campaigns, was selected Wednesday as the Offensive Player of the Week in the American Football League by The Associated Press.

For his first performance against San Diego, Parilli received nothing but sympathy as the Chargers rolled to a 24-0 victory while he admittedly "stunk the place out."

Parilli wasn't much better later in the season when the Patriots opened at home against Kansas City. The Chiefs quickly built a 17-0 lead and then Parilli had the ball knocked out of his hands after he had apparently crossed the goal line for the Patriots' first touchdown.

Boston's boo birds immediately went to work — and that says Parilli, is what made him bounce back.

Was Turning Point

"That Kansas City game was the turning point," he explained. "I heard the fans booing me. I couldn't miss it. But I told myself if I let them bother me I would be defeated. So I decided to keep on firing the football no matter what."

Parilli went right to work and so did the Patriots. They tied the New York Jets the following week, then whipped defending champion Buffalo before knocking off the Chargers and climbing into Eastern title contention just one-half game behind the Jets.

Parilli got the job done against San Diego with a pair of 53-yard scoring strikes to Larry Garrison and a 14-yard touchdown pass to Gino Cappelletti.

"Our game plan was to fake a run and throw," Parilli explained. "We put the first pass play to Garrison in just for this game and probably won't use it again this year."

"On the second pass to Garrison, Tom Yewic noticed that Dick Degan (San Diego line-backer) was limping and we figured he couldn't keep up with Larry."

Beats Teammates

Parilli figured correctly and he came away with the Offensive Player of the Week award over Garrison and another teammate

Hudson Valley Bridge Stars In Kingston for Tournament

Crack bridge players from the Hudson Valley area will converge on Kingston Elks Club this weekend for the 13th annual Hudson Valley championships.

The three-day event starts Friday at 2:30 p. m. with the Individual championship. The current titleholder is Renee Canfield. The Mixed Pairs competition starts at 8:30 p. m. The defenders are Dail Shane and Michael Moss.

The Saturday schedule includes Open Pairs with the first session at 2 p. m. and second session at 8 p. m.

Four events are scheduled on Sunday, the windup day:

Men's Pairs, 1 p. m.—Holders: R. Wesselmann and T. L. Goodwin.

Women's Pairs, 1 p. m.—Holders: Anne Englund and Chris Wheatcroft.

Master Teams, 7 p. m.—(More than 20 Master Points); Holders: Hilden Rector, Joseph Zabtila, Lester Balin and Kenneth Plambeck.

Amateur Pairs are also scheduled at 7 p. m. for players with less than 20 Master Points. Holders are Mr. and Mrs. Ben M. Blinky.

Permanent Trophies

Permanent trophies will be awarded in all events, also Master Points in accordance with American Contract Bridge League schedule for sectional tournaments.

Irving H. Wheatcroft of Kingston is tournament committee chairman. He is assisted by Sydeil Berkowsky, Jerry McNamara, Janet Yallum, Ben Wolf, Ronnie Olivet and Raymond Wood.

Harry Thayer is in charge of publicity and Dr. Harry McNamara is trophy chairman. Officers of the Hudson Valley Contract Bridge Association are Anne Englund, president; Dr. McNamara, vice president; David Kreindler, treasurer; and Syd Berkowsky, secretary.

Area directors include Dorothy Maroon, Dr. Paul Perlman, I. H. Wheatcroft.

Accept Race Bids

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—It will be Tom Rolfe and Assagai against the foreign invaders in the $150,000 Washington, D. C. International at Laurel on Nov. 11.

The owners of Tom Rolfe, the American 3-year-old champion of 1965, and Assagai, the 3-year-old grass course star, accepted invitations Wednesday for the mile and a half turf race.

About 350 American and 50 foreign scientists belong to the National Academy of Science.

Women's Group Is Named for Sedita

A Women's Committee for Sedita for Attorney General in Ulster County has been formed, John Parete, Sedita campaign coordinator announced today. Co-chairmen of the Women's Committee is Mrs. Inez DeSomma of Saugerties, Mrs. Ann Demeter of Kingston and Mrs. Marie Green of Ellenville.

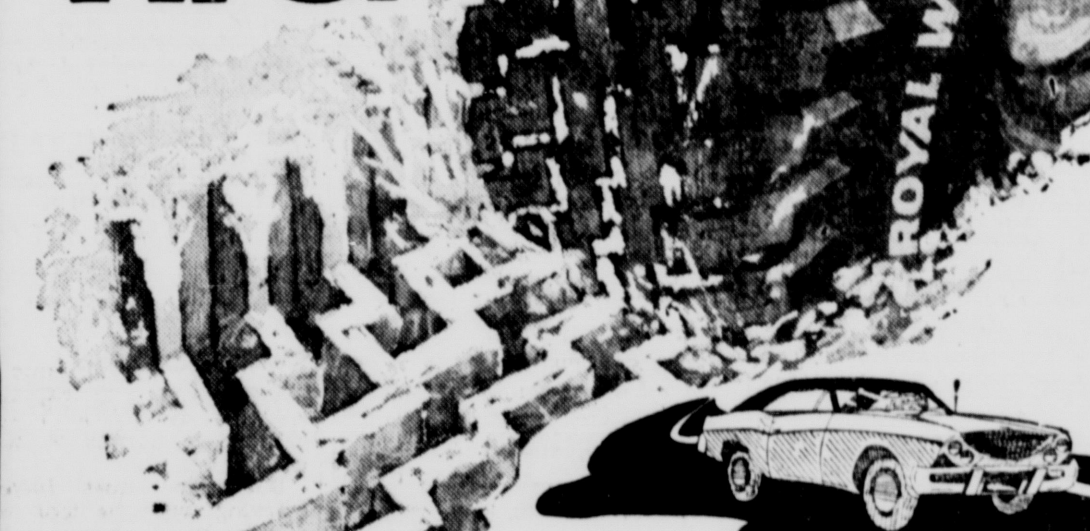

"The Mothers and homemakers of this community and of the entire state have become increasingly disturbed by the alarming increase in crime in our streets," Mrs. DeSomma, a spokesman for the group said.

Mayor Sedita's forthright call for a unified Department of Justice to combat that crime increase is a welcome call to action to which every woman in the State should respond. We are particularly distressed by the fact that as the Mayor has stressed, crime in the small cities, towns, and villages of our state has increased by 100 to 450 per cent during the past eight years. Direct, coordinated action by the State is needed at once. Mayor Sedita, as our Attorney General, can give us such action.

Dividend Declared

AIDS CHEST CAMPAIGN—J. Paul Sturtevant left, public relations manager of Ferroxcube Corporation of America, presents initial corporate gift to Prescott C. Newell, president of the Ulster County Community Chest. This is the first year that the Saugerties firm has participated in chest fund drives. It is providing payroll deduction plans in hopes of meeting its $10,000 goal. Contributions at the plant will be added to the Saugerties township goal which is currently at 81 per cent. A total of $299,600 is needed by the chest to insure operating expenses for its 13 member agencies in 1967. (Freeman photo by Wagenfch)

Sears Will Build

ter is located off Flatbush Avenue a short distance from Foxhall Avenue. This building will be the second major construction to be located on the 52-acre park. The first building constructed there was the Colony Liquor Distributors at 132 Flatbush Avenue.

The Sears warehouse will be positioned directly north of Colony Liquor. Included among the services at the industrial center will be a rail siding and an easy access road off Flatbush Avenue to a spacious parking area.

Faith and Formulas

NEW YORK (AP)—"It is perfectly conceivable that one can explicitly deny God, even while implicitly affirming him in yet other things one reflectively affirms," So says the Rev. Dr. Schubert M. Ogden, of Southern Methodist University, in a new book, "The Reality of God" (Harper).

TO NAME MARINE OF YEAR—A committee of Ulster Detachment, Marine Corps League met this week to discuss the selection of the Marine of the Year in conjunction with the annual Marine Ball to be held Nov. 12 at Tropical Inn, Port Ewen. The presentation will be made during the festivities of the 12th annual ball. A Broadway floor show has been secured for this year's event including a comedy team of Miss Jane Martin and John Baro. Another act will be announced. Music for dancing will be Tommy Cavalero and his orchestra. The committee includes (l-r) seated, John Ray Mayone, Gilbert E. Gray, commandant; rear, Albert Melville, Harold Dohnken, Harold Degraff, and Valmore Carpenter.

Restaurateurs Urge Sale Ban On French Wines

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—The Restaurant and Liquor Dealers Association of New York State has passed a resolution urging "the American people to cease buying products made and distributed by France."

A spokesman for the group said today the resolution was directed toward the sale and distribution of French wine, although the beverage was not mentioned specifically.

He said the resolution scored French actions as "unfriendly to the best interests of the United States." It was passed unanimously, without discussion. Members did not say whether they planned to ban sale of French wine and other products in their restaurants or liquor stores, the spokesman said.

Samuel Scampone of Utica was elected president of the association at the convention this week in Kiamasha Lake.

Interest Lacking

County Attorney Molyneux answered questions put by the citizens and also to questions asked by members of the Board and explained the operation of the law.

Present were Chairman of the Board Charles Rylea, who presided, and Supervisors Peter Savago, Harold Van Aken, Thaddeus Musialkiewicz, Charles E. Penney, Douglas Dye, John C. Sangaline, Louis Gerard DeFelicis, Wendell Scherer, Bowman Owen, Franklin Kelder, Clarence C. Raiche, Peter Williams, Ralph Bush, William R. West, John J. Lucci, George Barthel, Thomas J. Shay, George Majestic, Irving Bell.

Several of the towns of the county have already taken action approving the legislation for their towns. The Board of Supervisors, following last night's public hearing, is now in a position to take action on a county-wide basis of exemption of eligible citizens from county tax.

Nebo, Babylonian god, was said to have invented the art of writing.
